PINCHOT'S MAJORITY MAY REACH 300,000

Forester's Victory Over McSparran Continues to Grow Larger as Rural Returns Slowly Filter Into Capital

Grand Total Now Well Over Quarter of Million and Seems Destined To Reach Three Hundred Thousand; Both Senators Leading Governor

COL. KERR HOLDS PEPPER BELOW REED

Philadelphia, Nov. 9.—After being elected to the governorship of Pennsylvania by over a quarter of a million majority, Gifford Pinchot left here this morning for his home in Milford to begin the study of the problems he will have to face when he succeeds William C. Sproul as governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

With 461 of the State's 3021 election precincts yet to be heard from the count now stands: Pinchot 795,069 and McSparran 539,577 giving the former a plurality of 255,492.

Philadelphia, Nov. 8.—Gifford Pinchot has been elected Governor of Pennsylvania by a plurality of more than 250,000 over his Democratic opponent, John A. McSparran. A Legislature that is overwhelmingly Republican has been chosen, and a majority of the members are pledged to help him write into law the promises he made to the people of the state.

United States Senator David A Reed has been elected for a full term in the upper national body by a plurality of 360,000, while his colleague United States Senator George Wharton Pepper has been returned for the unexpired term of the late Senator Boies Penrose by a lead of 331,000 David J. Davis for lieutenant governor, James F. Woodward for secretary of internal affairs and Robert S Gawthrop for judge of the superior court have been elected by large majorities.

Vote for Governor

With all but 416 of the 8,021 districts reporting on the governorship, the result is as follows:

Gifford Pinchot (Rep.).....795,069
John A. McSparran (Dem).539,577

Pinchot's plurality .....255,492

Reed's Plurality

7,267 out of 8,021 districts show:
David A. Reed (Rep).....724,276
Samuel E. Shull (Dem)..383,237

Reed's Plurality ..... 359,039

Pepper's Plurality

7,304 out of 8,021 districts show:
George Wharton Pepper (Rep.) .....753,577
Fred E. Kerr (Dem).....422,356

Pepper's Plurality .....331,221

Both the Republican and Democratic candidates for governor polled more votes than their associates on the United States senatorial ticket.

G. O. P. Holds 28 in Congress

The Pennsylvania delegation in the next Congress will stand 28 Republicans and eight Democrats. This will be a gain of seven Democrats. The districts now represented by Republicans that will have Democratic members in the next House Northumberland, Dauphin, York and Northampton. The other Democratic city E Campbell of Allegheny, who is the lone representative of his party from Pennsylvania in the present Congress.

In the next session of the Legislature the unofficial returns from Tuesday's election show that there will be 44 Republicans and 6 Democrats in the Senate. This is a gain of seven seats for the majority party In the House with 206 members, the present indications are that the Republicans will have 169. So far 37 Democrats have been elected. This is a gain of 23 over the 1921 session.

Seven Women Chosen

The next House of Representatives will have seven women in its membership. They are Helen Grimes, Allegheny; Gertrude McKinney, Butler; Alice M. Bentley, Crawford; Martha G. Speiser, Rosa DeYoung and Lillie H. Pitts, Philadelphia and Martha G. Thomas, Chester. They are Republicans Until late last night it was believed that Miss Sarah M Gallagher had won in Cambria, but fuller returns indicates that she lost to a Democrat.

WILL INDICT THREE IN JERSEY RECTOR-SINGER MURDER

New Brunswick, N. J, Nov 9.—Wilbur Mott, special prosecutor in charge of the investigation of the murder of the Rev. Edward Hall and Mrs. Eleanor Mills met Charles E. Parker of the Supreme Court and Alfred Biggs, foreman of the Somerset county grand jury in the Somerset court house this morning, to arrange for the presentation of the case before the grand jury tomorrow or Monday morning.

The grand jury will be asked to indict three persons on the charge of murder in the first degree. There will be two men and one woman.

The authorities claim that they know who the murderers are and while the men will be charged with first degree murder, the woman will also be charged on the grounds of being accessory before and after the crime and with aiding the murderers to escape.

---

New Brunswick, N. J., Nov. 9.—Further delay in the arrest of the slayer of the Rev. Edward Hall and Mrs. Eleanor Mills developed today.

After a conference at the Somerville court house Prosecutor Mott stated that no decision had been made when the grand jury would meet but that it would not be this week, therefore there will be no arrests made this week.

GRAVE CRISIS NEAR IN CONSTANTINOPLE; BRITISHERS KILLED

London, Nov. 9.—Two British soldiers were killed at Constantinople apparently in a clash with the Turks and the situation is very grave according to advices received here today

Mustapha Kemal has sent a note to the Commissioner of the Allied forces that the Allied forces must withdraw from Constantinople and that allied warships must withdraw from their strategic positions in the Straits.

WOODROW WILSON IS OVERJOYED AT DEMOCRATIC SWEEP

Washington, D. C. Nov. 9.—Woodrow Wilson while overjoyed at the sweeping victories made by the Democratic party in the recent elections would not make a statement at present, was indicated in a statement by John Randolph Bolling, former private secretary to Mr Wilson.

"Mr. Wilson prefers to reserve any thing he has to say about the results of the election until some later date when he may make a statement."

Asked what the War-time leader of the Democrats had to say about the results Mr. Bolling said that he could vouchsafe no further answer than the fact that Mr. Wilson was overjoyed.

CHARLEY SCHWAB SEES PROSPERITY RIGHT NEAR AT HAND

New York, Nov. 9.—Prosperity and winter are coming hand in hand, declared Charles M. Schwab in a recent speech given in this city. He continued that an era of prosperity such as has never before been foreseen is "just ahead" and this was his answer to the questions raised by ten leading business men, who propounded the query to Schwab asking him for his opinion on the future.

He went on: "Better money conditions, better personal conditions, better business conditions, more time for business and pleasure and a general settling down to normalcy is the reason for the remark and we will see wonderful times during the coming winter and spring."

Among the businesses which were surveyed were the textile, movies, clothing, shoes, automobiles, furniture and the American Farm Bureau

SHORTAGE OF LABOR ACUTE IN STATE

Harrisburg, Pa., Nv. 9—There is an acute shortage of common labor existing in several sections of Pennsylvania acording to reports from the State Employment Bureau. In the Pittsburgh district the situation is very acute there being a shortage of from 15,000 to 25,000.

In every part of the state with the exception of the Scranton district there is no man idle who wants to work.

The local bureau states that the unemployed in the state is approximately 37,880 and this does not include the number who are on strike which is given out as 92,273.

In the Pittsburgh district there remain 80,000 yet on strike on account of the situation at the coal mines.

CO. FARM BUREAU TO HOLD ANNUAL MEET CLEARFIELD NOV. 14

Dean Watts and Dr. Nixon of State College Will Address Gathering at Court House.

FARMERS ATTEND

The Annual Farm Bureau Meeting will be held in the Arbitration Room. Court House, Clearfield, Pennsylvania, next Tuesday, November 14th, commencing at 10 00 a. m. sharp Morning and afternoon sessions. This meeting is the most important of the entire year, and should be attended by every farmer, as well as others interested in agriculture throughout the whole County

The morning session will start promptly at 10.00 a. m. and consists of the different reports, such as the financial report, County Agent's report, followed by the election of Officers. This part of the program is full as important as the afternoon session, as it will show how much work has been accomplished in the different communities, as well as the financial condition of the Farm Bureau.

The afternoon session will commence at 1:30. We are fortunate in having Dean R. L. Watts, former County boy, and Doctor E. L. Nixon the potato wizard of the State, both from State College, to address the meeting. These addresses will be interesting and both men are bringing a message that everyone should hear.

The Farm Bureau has accomplished a great many things during the last year, and has as many more problems and important community and County wide projects to work out for the coming year. Some of the communities may think that the work was slighted in their particular community. Perhaps there is a reason for this. Perhaps the interest in Farm Bureau work was not great in that community. The Farm Bureau is a Public Organization of the County, financed by the County, and the County Agent is a public servant of the people, paid by the State, and if there is any community

NEGLIGENCE CAUSE OF AWFUL DISASTER AT SPANGLER MINE

State's Official Investigation Leads to That Belief, According To Inspector.

DETERMINE TODAY

Spangler, Pa., Nov. 8.—Negligence was responsible for the gas explosion in the Reilley coal mine Monday morning acording to a statement tonight by Chief Mine Inspector Seward Button, of Harrisburg.

"We expect to determine tomorrow just who was guilty of negligence," said the inspector.

Inspector Button today talked with several of the 32 men who were in the heading or the cage when the explosion took place.

Button declared survivors told him that mine bosses had previously located all pockets of gas in the workings, but had not officiahy reported them. Officials of the mine said their records showed that the mine had been reported "gas free" before the men went down Monday.

It was indicated by the state inspector that the investigation will center about the methods of testing for gas used by Fire Boss Patrick Flannigan on a few occasions. Flannigan was known to have exploded small accumulations of gas, miners said, without causing injury to the men.

"The fact that Flannigan was badly burned by the explosion seems to indicate that he received the full froce of the explosion' said Button. The only debris after the explosion was a few feet from the corpse of the mine boss.

All of the headines were inspected today and no more bodies were found

NORA MOORE, GIRL TIED ON RAILROAD, IS DECLARED SANE

Deputy Sheriff Hummelsbaugh, who has been observing Nora Moore, the negro woman found bound to the railroad track with her hands and feet tied, at the County Home crossing of the Pennsylvania railroad, since she has been in jail, has petitioned the Clearfield county court for a commission in lunacy. The Deputy Sheriff was of the opinion the woman was insane and the commission was asked to examine her and determine that point.

A meeting was held and the woman examined, but was found to be sane

She will be held for a time and then likely sent back to her home in Asheville, N. C.,

The authorities believe the woman to be more or less of a "bad actor' and want her out of Clearfield county.

In carrying out the idea that her being tied upon the rail road track within a few feet of the roadway was a "plant" for possible dishonest purpose on the part of one or more persons it is only necessary to state that a few days after the woman was placed in jail a telegram was received by Sheriff Lowell for her which requested the woman to come to Harrisburg at once to the bedside of her mother, who it was said was lying at the point of death.

RAILROAD LABORER KILLED

New Kensington, Nov. 9—Vincenzo Lamenpola, aged 68, a laborer of Brighton, was struck and killed by a Pennsylvania train at the Braeburn crossiny near here this morning.

Anglo-Saxon Unity Vital, Says Former U. S. Ambassador

John W. Davis, former United States Ambassador to Great Britain, pleads in the November issue of "Our World" for complete understanding between the great English-speaking nations. We have given back to England many progressive institutions in exchange for the blood and traditions she gave us, he holds, but the important point is to keep the spiritual unity of the two peoples. Mr. Davis believes this one of the most important world problems.

DEMOCRATIC COME-BACK EVERYWHERE JARS HARDING ADMINISTRATION AND ALMOST WIPES OUT LEAD IN CONGRESS

U. S. Senate Stands 52 Republicans To 42 Democrats, With One Farm-Labor and One Doubtful; House Control Held By Narrow Margin.

RADICALS HOLD BALANCE OF POWER

Washington, D. C. Nov. 9.—Virtually complete election returns now being in hand, those that are out not being able to affect the present outlook, shows the tremendous lead the Republicans gained in 1920 has been slashed to such a narrow margin that Republican control of Congress was certain to be jeopardized.

In the Senate the Republicans will not have a plurality of more than ten over the combined strength of the Democrats and Radicals.

As the result of the election the Senate stands 52 Republicans and 42 Democrats, one Farm Labor and one doubtful. Even after the returns are complete there is little liklihood that any change in the foregoing can be wrought.

The doubtful States, Utah and North Dakota should insure a meagre Republican majority in the House.

These figures will assure the control of the House which carries with it the sepakership and the chairmanship of the committees but not enough to force the passage of administration measures in case there should be the slightest break in party lines of the slightest amount of absenteeism.

The latest available authorities gives the standing of the House as Republicans, 220; Democrats, 209; Socialist, 1; Independent 1 with three scattering districts yet to be heard from.

Altho these figures may be revised later the Democrats still insist that the result is in doubt.

According to the present authority the Republican margin will be 9 or 10.

Senator King was not certain of re-election but was said to be leading by a majority of more than 1,700.

The returns were very slow in coming in owing to the bad weather which has prevailed over most of the country and the count from the rural sections is notably behind, and therefore very uncertain whether J. F. O'Connor, Dem., or Lynn Frazier had won in North Dakota for the United States senatorship.

---

Philadelphia, Nov. 9.—Tuesday's elections placed control of legislation by the Sixty-eighth Congress squarely in the lap of the Farm Bloc. The Administration margin in the House will be slender enough to enable the Middle Western agricultural group to hold the balance of power. In the Senate, the Republican insurgent group, kept in check solely by the Administration majority of twenty-four, will be able to swing almost any vote it pleases.

Returns on congressional contests came in slowly last night and the voting was so nearly even in many districts the actual status of the two major parties in the House of Representatives will not be fixed definitely for several days. There was reason to believe, however, the Republican margin would prove to be approximately fifteen.

The present indication is for a new United States Senate composed of 53 Republicans, 42 Democrats and 1 Farm-Laborite. Several Western contests remained in doubt, but in all the Democrats were leading. They were ahead in Utah, Wyoming, New Mexico and Montana, where seats now held by Democrats were in the balance. Former Representative C. Dill, Democrat, was maintaining a lead over Senator Miles Poindexter, Republican, in Washington. Should Dill win out—a recount already being held necessary for official decision—the Senate line-up would be 52 Republicans, 43 Democrats and 1 Farmer-Laborite—a Republican majority of 9.

Both Sides Claim House

Both sides continued last night to claim control of the House. John T. Adams, chairman of the Republican National Committee, was clinging to his assertion, the final figures would show a Republican majority of 25 in the House.

Cordell Hull, chairman of the Democratic National Committee, refused to abandon his claim of a Democratic House, but it was said at the Democratic headquarters, a Republican House by 4 or 5 seats was the most expectation of the party managers. In administration circles at Washington, the leaders were standing by their estimate of a Republican majority of 20.

Lodge Election Assured

New returns disposed of all doubt as to the re-election of Senator Henry Cabot Lodge, majority leader in the Senate. His plurality was placed at 9425 over Colonel William A. Gaston, his Democratic opponent, who ran fully 50,000 votes ahead of the State ticket. There was a possibility of a recount being demanded however, by the Democrats.

Washington, Nov. 9.—The Republicans still cling to their majority in the next Congress by a very slim hold as the slow process of getting in the official returns went forward today.

WILL ABOLISH RAIL LABOR BOARD IS FORECAST BY LABOR

Washington, Nov. 8.—The abolition of the Railroad Labor Board was forecasted by the officials of the labor unions here today, following the upheaval as the result of Tuesday's elections.

Confidence was expressed by a prominent union head that the "teeth" would be taken from the board and they would be rendered powerless. He also predicted that there would be some move made wherein a new way would be established to solve the difficulties that now exist and for the future government of the labor conditions on the common carriers of the nation.

WOULD ATTACH VERDICT AWARD

The Executors of the estate of the late John W. Eberts have asked Clearfield County Court to issue a writ of attachment against Knox Fullerton in order that they may attach $162.50 in the hands of W. S. Holmes belonging to Fullerton, being the amount of the verdict recently recovered by Fullerton from the dray man for damages to his sitting.

COUNTY FARM

that does not receive the attention or assisance that they feel is their share, it is due to one or two reasons. Either lack of interest in that community, or the unorganized efforts of the community to work with the Farm Bureau.

A great many citizens of the County, fail to appreciate either the work that is being done or could be done in the County through the Farm Bureau, simply because of lack of interest, or knowledge of the benefits to be derived. The work of the Farm Bueau, in every community, depends upon the people in that community, and not altogether upon the Farm Bueau.

Come out to the Farm Bureau Meeting and learn what has been done, and what is contemplated for future. Find out where the taxes you paid to support the Farm Bureau was spent. This amounted to less than eight cents per tax payer per year.

The meeting this year was scheduled earlier than usual, to enable people to get out on better roads. It is hoped that advantage will be taken of this fact, and a large turnout will be present. Let us double last year's attendance of one hundred and twenty-five.

Wednesday Nov. 1, the members of the Busy Bee Sewing Circle of Paradise, journeyed to Surveyor to the home of Mrs. Howard Ogden, a member of this popular club. Arriving there at noon they found a delicious chicken dinner awaiting which was enjoyed to the utmost. After dinner all who were able scoured carpet rags till time for the afternoon train home. All started for home vowing to "come again soon" as Mrs. Ogden proved the ideal hostess.

IF SKIN BREAKS OUT AND ITCHES APPLY SULPHUR

Just the moment you apply Mentho Sulphur to an itching, burning or broken out skin, the itching stops and healing begins, says a noted skin specialist. This sulphur preparation, made into a pleasant cold cream, gives such a quick relief, even to fiery eczema, that nothing has ever been found to take its place.

Because of its germ destroying properties, it quickly subdues the itching, cools the irritation and heals the eczema right up, leaving a clear, smooth skin in place of ugly eruptions, rash, pimples or roughness.

You do not have to wait for improvement. It quickly shows. You can get a little jar of Rowles Mentho-Sulphur at any drug store.

COMMUNITY SERVICE NEWS

The general committee under Community Service to promote the coming dramatic institute will meet Mrs. Hanley, the institute leader, on Tuesday evening, Nov. 14, at 7:30 in the High School. At this meeting Mrs. Hanley will outline the plans for the course and discuss what the whole will mean to the town. Effort is being made to meet some who are known to be interested in this sort of thing and are glad to endorse this Community Service proposition. It would be an excellent thing for those who are sympathetic to this movement to attend this meeting to help boost the thing along and bring it to the attenion of those who can take advantage of it, whether the entire committee will be able to take the work or not. Registration, which is free and will accommodate any number, can be made with Community Service.

The office of Community Service is moving on Saturday to the Locust street building just vacated by the Democratic local organization. It will continue to be served by the H. & C. telephone. All scout meetings will be held there unless special arrangements are otherwise made.

Scout troop number 10 will meet at the High School Friday afternoon at 3:30. It is absolutely necessary that all members be present as the tenderfoo test will be given.

Napoleon's Famous Marshals.

Of the 26 marshals of Napoleon's empire, 18 started as privates. The majority volunteered in the revolutionary armies, though several were privates before the revolution. The most noted marshals from the ranks were: Ney, Massena, Lannes, Murat, Soult, and Bernadotte. The latter was the only permanent king of revolutionary origin.

One's Personal Influence.

Every one casts a shadow. There hangs about us a sort of penumbra—a strange, indefinable something—which we call personal influence, which has its effect on every other life on which it falls. It goes with us wherever we go. It is not something we can have when we will, as we lay aside a garment. It is like something that always pours out from our life, like light from a lamp, like heat from a flame, like perfume from a flower.

Had "the Goods" on Minister

An old Scotswoman was told that her minister used notes, but would not believe it. Said one: "Gang into the gallery an' see." She did so and saw the written sermon. After the luckless preacher had concluded his reading on the last page he said: "But I will not enlarge." The old woman called out from her lofty position: "Ye canna, ye canna, for your paper's give out!"

Visits Infrequent.

The greatest locust year is universally considered by men living today to have been in 1868. The next simultaneous appearance of the thirteen and seventeen year locusts is figured to take place in 2087, a consolation to the present generation, indeed. Many superstitions are recorded in connection with the appearance of the locust. One of the most popular is that which holds the figure on its wings, which resembles a W, to forecast war.

AN ORDINANCE

Defining and prohibiting Disorderly Conduct within the limits of the Borough of Grampian, Pennsylvania, and providing penalties for violations thereof.

Be it ordained by the Council of the Borough of Grampian in Council regularly assembled, and it is hereby ordained and enacted by authority of the same:

Section 1. That disorderly conduct within the limits of the Borough of Grampian, Pennsylvania, is hereby defined to be any act, word or conduct, causing or tending to cause a disturbance of the peace and good order of the borough, or causing or tending to cause any danger, discomfort or annoyance to any person therein, and shall include loafing, fighting, drunkenness, vagrancy, begging, reckless and careless driving, gambling or playing games of chance for money or any other valuable thing, indecent exposure, profane swearing, the using of indecent, vulgar or obscene language, the making of loud and unnecessary noises, and street walking; all of which offences are hereby declared to be unlawful and are prohibited within the limits of said borough.

Section 2. Any person or persons who shall commit any of the offences enumerated in section one of this ordinance, within the limits of the Borough of Grampian, Pennsylvania, shall be deemed guilty of disorderly conduct and an offense against the good order, convenience, comfort and safety of the said borough, and upon conviction before the Burgess or a Justice of the Peace shall be sentenced to pay the cost of prosecution and a fine of not less than three dollars nor more than fifty dollars, and on default of the payment thereof shall be committed to the borough lock-up for a period not exceeding five days, or to the county jail for a period not exceeding thirty days.

Section 3. All ordinances or parts of ordinances inconsistent herewith are hereby repealed.

Ordained and enacted this 6th day of November A. D. 1922.

M. H. WOODEL,
President of Council.

Attest:
W. I. WALL,
Secretary of Council.

Examined and approved this sixth day of November A. D. 1922.

When Your Hacksaw Breaks.

If the blade in the hacksaw breaks two or three inches from the frame, it can still be utilized. Hold the blade in the flame of a blow torch, or otherwise heat it, and while still warm drill a hole through it; this can be done with a hand drill. The blade can then be replaced in the adjustable saw frame, and it will be ready for use.

High-Water Mark.

"High-water mark" is the line ordinarily reached by the sea at high tide. The general high-water mark of the sea is taken as the line at the limit of the rise of the medium tides and that of a body of fresh water in which there is no ebb and flow tide is taken at the limit of the soil that is so affected by the water as to be marked with a nature and vegetation distinct from that of the banks.

Possibly How It Leaked.

Mrs. Vere Gonne (to her solicitor)—"I cannot imagine how the unfortunate affair has leaked out. I have certainly never said a word about it in the presence of my servants." Solicitor (dryly)—"Possibly not, madam, but have you ever said a word about it in the presence of a keyhole?"—Pearson's Weekly (London).

Scottish Wild Cats.

It is not generally known that wild cats are still found in parts of Scotland and are extremely fierce. They make their lairies in rocks and hollow trees. At one time they were found all over England, but, like snakes, they have not been seen in Ireland.

Why Suffer From Bronchial Asthma?

Simple Home Treatment Makes Breathing Easy

Just because you start the day tired, lifeless, worn-out from loss of rest and the difficult breathing of miserable Asthma—do not think you have to stay this way long.

Be strong and well, breathe clearly and easily again by using this simple treatment known as Oxidaze, the prescription of a Worcester, Mass., physician.

For any form of Asthma where the bronchial tubes are irritated, the breathing short and difficult, its healing, relieving action is really wonderful. Sufferers who can't breathe at night and who gasp for a good, clear breath will appreciate the relief and comfort Oxidaze gives.

Oxidaze is a tablet made from essential oils which, when the patient dissolves in the mouth, almost immediately soothes the irritation, clears out the choked up air passages and enables the sufferer to breathe easily and get a real comfortable night's sleep.

It is sold by Bloom's Drug store and all leading druggists who agree to refund the full purchase price of the first package to any sufferer who does not obtain satisfactory relief. Asthmatic sufferers should give Oxidaze a trial. It is harmless and inexpensive.

DEATH BY GAS IS DENOUNCED

Prof. J. H. Mathews, Former World War Major, Condemns Method Used in Nevada.

Nevada's chamber of death, the gas room which a new law in the state provides is to be used for the execution of condemned criminals, is strongly denounced by Prof. J. H. Mathews, chairman of the department of chemistry, University of Wisconsin, and an expert on poisonous gases. Professor Mathews served as a major in the World war, studying gas warfare at the British front and serving in charge of the gas and flame branch of the trench warfare section of the United States army.

"The purpose of gas in warfare is to produce as much agony and torture as possible, in order that the victim may be at least incapacitated, if not actually killed," Major Mathews is quoted as saying to the American Legion news service. "And it is inconceivable that a state should desire to use gases which produce such effects. The purpose of capital punishment is to remove the victim quietly and effectively, in order that society henceforth may be protected and to serve as a warning to other potential evildoers.

"It is to be hoped that civilization has reached a point where revenge is no longer a motive. Only savages torture their victims before killing them; the use of any of the war gases to remove criminals would be quite in line with the practice of savages."

Professor Mathews said there were gases which might be used for executions, if the use of gas at all could ever be deemed wise. Carbon dioxide, the poisonous constituent of ordinary illuminating gas, he declared would be the logical one to use. He asserted, however, that if the administration of gas for execution of criminals were carried out, it should be entirely in the hands of medically trained men who understand both its use and attendant dangers.

"The horrors of poorly carried out electrocutions are sufficiently vivid in the minds of thinking people to make them abhor any method of execution which may not be both humane and effective," he declared.

CLIMBS FOR LEGION POSTS

George Polly, Lynn, Mass., Ex-Soldier Gives Exhibitions to Help Raise Funds.

Some people are height shy. They grab hold of a chimney on the roof of a story-and-a-half dwelling and look over the side only to seek the skylight and the lower regions. "Human Flies" are afflicted with the opposite complex. They can't stand on the ground and look at the chimney without wanting to go right up the front of the building and see if a chick-a-dee has built a nest there.

Such a human fly is George Polly of Lynn, Mass., ex-soldier in the Australian army, who for the last two years has climbed buildings from coast to coast for the benefit of Legion posts. He has climbed the Woolworth building in New York, the Custom House tower in Boston and the highest buildings in every other city of size.

"Human Fly" Scaling Building.

His hands and his toes are all he uses in scaling. Needless to say he has never fallen.

Legion Post of City Firemen.

A post of the American Legion, composed exclusively of city firemen, has been formed in New Orleans. The fire fighters plan to enter a team in the Legion athletic meet next October.

Makes for Longevity.

Cheerfulness is the best promoter of health, and is as friendly to the mind as to the body.—Addison.

Oxygen Gas Future Predicted.

When the process of making oxygen from air becomes cheaper it is predicted that an enormous demand for the gas will arise. Just as oxygen is now used for welding and other purposes in which great heat is desired, not gradually, but very speedily, so it will be required for smelting and a hundred other purposes.

Rain-Marked Windows.

Shogun.

"Shogun" is a Japanese term for great general, or commander in chief. For several centuries the shogun class exercised the real power in Japan, though nominally subject to the emperor. However, in 1867 a revolution restored the power of the emperor and the title of shogun was abolished the following year.

AMERICANISM WEEK, DEC. 3-9

Government, Legion and National Education Association Co-Operating to Make Program Success.

John J. Tigert.

John J. Tigert, United States commissioner of education, declares a conviction that a great stride toward the goal of Americanism set by the American Legion as one of its greatest programs of service will be made in the week of December 3 to 9, inclusive, which has been proclaimed American Education week. Commissioner Tigert and the National Education association are co-operating with the Americanism commission of the American Legion in making the week a success.

Announcement proclaiming the American Education week followed a conference in Washington between President Harding, Commissioner Tigert and Thurlend W. Powell, assistant national director of the Americanism commission. President Harding announced he would issue an official proclamation, followed by similar ones from governors of the states.

Commissioner Tigert, through the United States bureau of education, will request state and county superintendents of schools to devote the week to the American Legion program, which will start Sunday, December 3. Ministers of all denominations will be asked to preach sermons morning and evening that day on the benefits of education. Mass meetings will be held throughout the United States, at which speakers will be supplied by the American Legion.

Monday will have its special slogan —"Americans All by 1927"—with its drive throughout the country to assist immigrants and aliens to become good Americans, by starting their education in the duties of citizenship. Tuesday is devoted to patriotism, with such [illegible] Wednesday, [illegible] Thursday will be a mighty day in Americanism, the strengthening of the ties to eradicate radicalism. Friday will be devoted to "An Equal [illegible]," and [illegible] December 9 will be given [illegible] Americanism, [illegible] Saturday, [illegible] of war [illegible] of May it every community.

AUXILIARY MAY ADOPT THIS

Headdress Fronted With Blue or Gold Star May Be Approved by the Women's Organization.

When pretty Thelma Sines of Logansport, Ind., donned the headpiece that she's wearing in the accompanying picture, and naively asked if it wasn't a perfectly wonderful creation for members of the American Legion Auxiliary to wear at conventions, conferences, etc., it hasn't been recorded what the Indiana women's reply was, but it is known that all the American Legion fellows who saw the picture immediately voted aye and urged its unanimous adoption.

Miss Thelma Sines.

Miss Sines' Auxiliary unit, No. 3 of Logansport, submitted the headdress as the official one to be worn, but frankly confessed that the idea was really born at Columbus, Neb., where that city's American Legion Auxiliary unit presented it, and then Columbus replied that it really was the idea of some of the women of Louisiana. At any rate, it seemed to be a popular idea—made more so, perhaps, by the wearer herewith shown. Miss Sines says she likes it, that it's cool and comfortable, and affords a distinctive headdress for the organization.

It will be noted that the headdress is fronted with a star. A gold star can be substituted for the ordained blue by those who lost loved ones in the service.

Details, Please.

Old Man Matthews' daughter was reputed to be the slowest witted and laziest girl in the state. One day her father came in to find her sprawled in a chair with her feet in dangerous proximity to the blazing fireplace.

"Git up, gal," he yelled. "You're practically standin' on a red-hot coal."

"Which foot, paw?" drawled Sal, opening one eye.—American Legion Weekly.

Alaska's Great Bears.

The great brown bear of Alaska is the largest of all bears, and the largest flesh-eating animals in the world. So far as natural history is concerned, these bears have been known only since 1898. They reach a weight of 1,500 pounds, and unless attacked are inoffensive giants. Then they become terrific antagonists. They grow fat on salmon of the Alaskan rivers.

Cow Known as Great Mother.

Long before the birth of the gods the way was being prepared for the apotheosization of the cow. The life giving cowry-amulet, one of primitive man's earliest elixirs of life, eventually became personified as the Great Mother. In course of time the cow's maternal function in supplying milk for human children brought about her identification with the Great Mother. The moon, also, as the controller of womankind, was another of her forms.

GLASS OF SALTS CLEANS KIDNEYS

If your Back hurts or Bladder bothers you, drink lots of water.

When your kidneys hurt and your back feels sore, don't get scared and proceed to load your stomach with a lot of drugs that excite the kidneys and irritate the entire urinary tract. Keep your kidneys clean like you keep your bowels clean, by flushing them with a mild harmless salts which helps to remove the body's urinous waste and stimulate them to their normal activity. The function of the kidneys is to filter the blood. In 24 hours they strain from it 500 grains of acid and waste so we can easily understand the vital importance of keeping the kidneys active. Drink lots of water—you can't drink too much; also get from your pharmacist about four ounces of Jad Salts; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast each morning for a few days and your kidneys may then act fine. This famous salts is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to clean and stimulate clogged kidneys, also to neutralize the acids in urine so it is no longer a source of irritation, thus often ending bladder weakness.

Jad Salts is inexpensive; cannot injure; makes a delightful effervescent lithia water drink which everyone should take now and then to help keep their kidneys clean and active. Try this; also keep up the water drinking, and no doubt you will wonder what became of your kidney trouble and backache.

Better Battery Service In Cold Weather

Although it is generally understood by motorists that cold weather imposes a severe task on their storage battery, they frequently disregard that fact with the result that it is either weakened or ruined.

Freezing of a battery can be prevented, says Mr. E. R. Williams, proprietor of Williams Auto Sales Co. Ves a battery distributor, if it is not allowed to become discharged to a point which permits this condition. This important information can be known at all times by hydrometer readings, taken either by the motorist personally or at a battery station.

Cautious motorists, who do not run their cars regularly, eliminate expense and worry by securing either wet or dry winter battery storage. In wet storage the battery is left just the way it is taken out of the car, and is kept at a safe temperature, watered and charged at least once a month and otherwise kept under competent supervision.

Dry storage is far better unless the battery is comparatively new. The battery is entirely disassembled, and all chemical action suspended. When reassembled in the Spring, new separators are used, which makes the cost slightly higher but the added life given to the battery makes it cheaper in the long run.

America's Pipe Lines

At one time or another almost every barrel of oil produced in the United States travels through a pipe line. The flow of oil in the fifty thousand miles of pipe line never stops. Different grades of oil are separated from one another by "headers" which are merely partitions of water three feet long.

The Fatality of Falling.

Topping the list of accidents is injury by falling and falls from step ladders lead all the others. It is generally thought that the automobile is responsible for most accidents but there are many different causes which claim more victims than the auto. While 67 persons are killed in auto accidents 68 are harmed to death 68 on railroads, 111 by falls, 56 by drowning, 26 in mines and 34 asphyxiated.

Where Rain Never Falls.

There are parts of Egypt in which rain never falls; other places where it falls lightly about once in four years; and there are two great rainless districts of two or three millions of square miles, the one including the north of Africa and the other Mongolia and its neighborhood.

To Remove Stains.

When the color of fruit stains has been changed by the action of alkalies lemon juice or vinegar, the original color, often can be restored by sponging with ammonia and water and then chloroform.

Very Old Family.

Demand of the Day.

Today there is a greater demand for workers, real live ambitious, resolute workers, than ever before in the world's history. Every office and shop in the land is crying for help, and the woman who is poor, but proud—too proud to roll up her sleeves and know the sweet joy that comes from real, honest toil—is missing one of life's sweetest consolations. If she is wise now, while the opportunity is hers she will put that foolish sentiment in the background and seek out the opening that will assure her a living.

How Schooner Got Name.

How did the name "schooner" originate? It was about the year 1713 and at Gloucester the first vessel of the schooner type was launched. A tradition persists that enthusiastic at the speed made on her trial trip a boy exclaimed, "See how she schoons!" "A schoonpr let her be" agreed the builder hearing the remark. This is a probable story; the word schoon in ancient New England meant a flat stone to skip along the water.

Loosen Up That Cold With Musterole

Have Musterole handy when a cold starts. It has all of the advantages of grandmother's mustard plaster WITHOUT the blister. You just apply it with the fingers. First you feel a warm tingle as the healing ointment penetrates the pores, then comes a soothing, cooling sensation and quick relief.

Made of pure oil of mustard and other simple ingredients, Musterole is recommended by many nurses and doctors. Try Musterole for bronchitis, sore throat, stiff neck, pleurisy, rheumatism, lumbago, croup, asthma, neuralgia, congestion, pains and aches of the back or joints, sore muscles, sprains, bruises, chilblains, frosted feet, colds of the chest. It may prevent pneumonia and "flu." 35c and 65c, jars and tubes.

Studebaker

It is not necessary to buy a high-priced roadster to get maximum comfort. Comfort is a matter of correct design. Comfort is built into the Studebaker Light-Six.

The seat is placed at just the right angle for relaxation and is provided with big, fat cushions, upholstered in genuine leather. The semi-elliptic springs are long, strong and resilient.

There is ample luggage space under the rear deck—plenty of room for everything you may want to carry.

Vibration, which is so destructive to motor cars, is practically eliminated by the perfect balance of the motor. This is largely due to the fact that the crankshaft and connecting rods are machined on all surfaces, an exclusive Studebaker practice for cars at anywhere near the Light-Six price.

Economy of operation is increased by valves inclined at a 20-degree angle and by the internal hot spot.

This handsome roadster is a quality car throughout. It is sold at $975 only because of complete manufacture, in large volume, in one of the most modern and complete motor car plants in the world.

Middlemen's profits are thus eliminated, and the savings are passed on to you.

The Light-Six Roadster well upholds Studebaker's 70-year reputation for dependability and dollar-for-dollar value.

Attractive cowl lights. Thief proof transmission lock. Cowl ventilator. Storm curtains opening with the doors. Large plate-glass windows in rear curtain. Inside and outside door handles. Upholstered in genuine leather. Ample space under the rear deck for luggage.

The Annual Farm Bureau Meeting At Clearfield, November 14

POULTRY MEN AT STATE COLLEGE TO LEARN CULLING

Poultry Specialists Conduct Interesting Demonstrations Which Mean Much.

MUCH INTEREST

During the past summer, the poultry specialists at the Pennsylvania State College Extension Department conducted 543 culling demonstrations on farms and poultry plants in eighty-four counties of the State. Eleven thousand two hundred fifty people attended these meetings and learned the art of successful culling. Under the supervision of the college specialists, these people handled more than 100,000 birds and culled out 20,000 of this number as unprofitable.

Clearfield County's contribution to these figures shows that 2000 birds were examined in eleven demonstrations held under the direction of the extension service and the Farm Bureau. Approximately five hundred unprofitable hens were removed from the flocks examined. It is estimated that the two hundred and seventy-five people attending the demonstrations in Clearfield County, represented more than 18,000 birds.

The most notable thing with these demonstrations is that only a few farmers are feeding for egg production. Unless the hens are fed a mash containing meat scrap, eggs cannot be produced at a profit. A very satisfactory mash can be made by mixing equal parts, by weight, of bran, middlings, ground oats, corn meal and meat scrap.

SURPLUS OF BULL CALVES HERE NOW

There is a surplus of pure bred bull calves in the County at the present time. It is a shame to send these calves to the butcher, for they are out of high producing, tested dams, and are exceptionally nice individuals. There should be a number of farmers in the County who have aged sires heading their herds that could use these animals later, and it would pay big dividends to purchase them now on a flooded market rather than wait until the time they are needed and then pay the price of a more mature animal.

The Farm Bureau has a number of these animals listed for sale. There is also for sale some pure bred Hereford beef cattle at slightly above beef prices. Any one interested should communicate with the County Agent for further particulars.

A number of farmers have inquired for fresh cows during the last week. Either grades or pure breds. The Farm Bureau would appreciate if farmers, who are in the market or have for sale any of the above listed livestock, would communicate with the County Agent at once.

If any farmer has fresh cows for sale, or is in the market for any of the other livestock listed, they should get in touch with the County Agent at once for further particulars.

CORN SILAGE FOR STEERS

Feeding trials at the Pennsylvania State College show that the maximum use of corn silage is the most profitable ration for two-year-old steers. To get cattle to consume a maximum amount of silage they must be fed all they will eat at the beginning of the breeding period.

WHY NOT TAKE A SHORT COURSE

Why not take a short course in agriculture at State College this winter? For those who are unable to spare a longer time for study, the eight-weeks courses beginning January 4 and closing March 3, 1923, will be a golden opportunity.

HAVE YOU THOUGHT OF THIS? TRY IT ON

Every farm has two outlets for the hay, corn and oats that it produces. They may be sold as such or they may be run thru the dairy cow and put on the market as milk, cream and butter. Conditions favor the latter plan. If the farm business is organized to market the forage through the use of cows, the dairymen can afford to plan to grow such crops as are suitable for dairy cattle. Our method of marketing is the result of conditions over which we have no control.

The wise dairymen are concentrating on cutting production costs through the use of more legumes and better sires. The big trouble right now is that the progress in raising and handling crops has not been accompanied by an increase of efficiency of the cows to which those crops are fed. Keep both ends of the farm business in shape. Modern equipment and yields do not jibe with 1850 model cows. Good cows can handle the farm crops profitably. Poor cows never can.

CULLING THE PIG CROP IS IMPORTANT

After every pig crop, there are a bunch of boars and gilts, the majority of which will eventually find their way to the pork barrel, by way of the fattening lot. Many more could be included in the feeder class, since they never will develop into the most desirable breeding individuals. The breeder of pure breds must always bear in mind that "the best is none too good." A good start in the breeding game should be followed by a constant improvement of the herd, thru the selection of outstanding females from the litters and the importation of better sires.

At this time of year, the matter of selection is of first importance. The fall litters have reached the point where at least fifty per cent. of the pigs can be sent to the fattening lots, there to be prepared for the pork barrel. Most of the boar pigs, and a good many of the females, will return the greatest profit in this way. The demand for boars in Pennsylvania is very limited and seldom should the boar pig be kept unless it is one of exceptional excellence. All other boar pigs should be castrated at once.

With the pork stock weeded out, considerable time should be given to the development of the good boar, and the gilts that are kept for the breeding herd. They should have plenty of growing, bone-building feeds and a good-sized lot of exercise. As quickly as one of the selected group develops a serious defect send it to the fattening pen. Do not labor with a bunch of inferior pigs expecting to make breeding individuals out of them. They make better market hogs. Spend the extra effort on a few good ones, rather than on a bunch of mediocre pigs of uncertain promise.

ECONOMICAL GAINS ON HOGS

It has been demonstrated that where hogs are kept in any quantity, a good hog pasture will make as great returns per acre as almost any cash crop on the farm. Besides a cash income, there is the advantage of knowing that hogs on pasture are more thrifty and are bothered less with disease and parasites than when kept under different conditions. In fact, hogs cannot be produced under our conditions without having good pasture. The use of a self-feeder in a hog pasture is very essential, as it means the saving of considerable labor. Hogs on pasture should have some concentrates if they are to make rapid and economical gains.

Some high protein feeds are necessary to properly balance corn and oats in profitable milk production. The cow cannot manufacture from carbohydrates the protein that is found in milk in the form of casein and albumin.

HOW TO FEED THE FATTENING PIN

How often do we see a bunch of small, runty barrows that, at six months of age, weigh less than one hundred pounds each, only half the weight that they should carry at that age? The hogman, who is trying to make a profit on his feeding operations, can well stop to consider the "why" and the "wherefore" of the small, undersized, unprofitable pig, since the pig is usually the determining factor in profitable pork production.

The correct type of fattening pig is a well-bred individual that carries the right conformation for the making of economical gains in weight. This characteristic is inherited from the sire and the dam. The care of the pigs is second only in importance to the selection of the right kind of feeders. The pigs should be given a good start, especially if they are the fall crop.

It is easy to get the pigs off to a good start if a creep is made for them while they are still with the sow. As soon as they learn to eat, keep a supply of good, clean food before them and make sure that it is not allowed to become foul, musty or moldy. Fix a self-feeder inside the creep and get the pigs accustomed to its use before they are weaned.

A good mixture for the self-feeder is made of 400 pounds cornmeal, 300 pounds middlings, and 100 pounds of 60 per cent. tankage. This makes a good feed for the pigs until they weigh about 125 pounds when the corn in the mixture may be increased to 600 pounds. Keep the pigs well supplied with plenty of fresh water. An exercising lot, dry sleeping quarters, and ample protection from weather are other essentials of successful management, but these should not be carried to such extremes that a hot-house product results.

PROPER FEED HELPS MILK AND BUTTER

Feed has a marked effect on the color of milk. Increased yellow color, due to certain kinds of feed such as green grass, alfalfa, carrots and the like, is often mistaken for a higher per cent. of butterfat. As a matter of fact, highly colored milk may not contain any more butterfat than milk with less color.

Milk does not vary in quality according to the kind of feed the cow gets. The cow inherits her milking characteristics. She consumes food to restore nutrients that she has already supplied in her milk. If the feed given the cow does not replace these nutrients in sufficient quantity and in the right proportion, she either supplies them for a short time from reserve material stored up in her body or reduces the milk flow rather than vary the quality of her milk.

WINTER VEGETABLES

It pays to buy vegetables and fruit in quantity, if you have storage facilities. Buy your potatoes, apples, pumpkins, squash and all root crops while they are cheap and before severe winter sets in.

HOW STATE COLLEGE HELPS COMMUNITY IMPROVE POULTRY

Recommends Establishment of Demonstration Farms To Get Best Results.

CO. AGENT FACTOR

In any community where there is a strong interest in poultry raising the extension service at the Pennsylvania State College, co-operating with the County Farm Bureau, is ever willing to lend a hand in the development of the work. One extension project that has been received with more than ordinary enthusiasm among poultrymen in a number of Counties is that of the Poultry Demonstration Farm, on which the best practices are put in operation under the direction of poultry specialists and the County Agent. How these farms are selected, and what system of management is observed, is explained in the following, from Professor P. L. Sanford, of the State College extension force.

"In the first place, it should be understood that the farm selected for demonstration purposes is not necessarily one that is in top-notch condition. More often this is not the case, and it is on the poorer farms that the greatest improvement is noticeable, of course. The community that adopts the project makes its own selection of the farm to be used for the demonstration. With the farm chosen, a two-year program is outlined, in which some or all of the practices suggested by the poultry extension specialists are tried out.

"Three meetings are held at the farm each year, in fall, spring and summer. At these meetings the farmers and the extension poultrymen get together and discuss poultry management from every angle, each meeting, however, being limited to but one phase of the work. During the first year, the feeding of hens, rearing chicks, culling and summer management are taken up; the second year, then, concerns itself with the selection of breeders, poultry housing, and advanced problems of summer management. A round table discussion at the end of each meeting gives those who attend an opportunity to bring their own problems into consideration.

"Upon the owner of the demonstration farm falls a great deal of the responsibility. He must be the local leader in poultry work. He must advertise the meetings, and see that the work has far-reaching effect. He keeps records of his flock, turns his accounts into the Poultry Extension office, and upon receiving the summarized accounts from the college, he is responsible for their distribution among the poultrymen of the community.

"Since the success of the farm depends in a great measure upon the leader, he should be a broad-minded, energetic individual. The farm itself may be good or poor, but as long as there are one hundred hens in the flock, it offers the necessary features. The poorer the farm, the more progress can be made; the better the farm, the more rapidly the best practices can be made evident to the community.

REJECT THE SCRUB SIRE AS EXPENSIVE

By using your neighbor's old red bull that happens to be handy you save the trouble of keeping a bull, but have you thought that the bull has as much to do with the value of your calves as the cow? If you would get one good bull and use him on your cows you would do much more good than you could do by buying a whole herd of cows of equal value and breeding them to a scrub bull.

The bull is half the herd. In the second generation, he becomes three-fourths, and so on. After four or five generations you have animals that have over ninety per cent. of the blood of the bulls you have used—not of your original cows.

Let us look at it this way. You save old Brindle's heifer calf because Brindle gives lots of good rich milk. But you continue to use Neighbor Brown's old red bull. Brindle may be as fine a cow as anyone would want but her calf carries half the blood of the old red bull whose breeding is—well, no one knows.

The next generation of cows probably won't be as good as old Brindle, yet we wonder why. So after the fourth or fifth generation how much of old Brindle's blood do we have left? Less than ten per cent.

So, look to the bulls you use. Get one from a cow of known record, one that is better than any in your herd. Stick to one definite breed. Select your animals wisely and see if Brindle's calf won't give more milk than she did and her granddaughter still more.

EIGHT WEEKS COURSE AT STATE

The eight-weeks course in agriculture conducted during the winter by the school of agriculture at State College, will this year begin on Thursday, January 4, and continue until Saturday, March 3, 1923. These winter courses were first offered to the farmers of the state in 1890, thirty-three years ago. Since that time they have become increasingly popular and many who have been unable to take the longer courses in agriculture at State College, have found the winter instruction to be of exceptional benefit to them in the management of their farms. Clearfield County numbers among its farming group quite a number of its former short course students who are now helping to improve the county's agriculture.

FEED TO PREVENT ABORTION

The feeding of a good mineral mixture for a considerable length of time before the cow freshens often prevents abortion. The following mixture will supply needed elements to the bodies of both the mother and the foetus: One pound steam bone or bone meal, one pound limestone, two pounds charcoal and two pounds salt mixed with each one hundred pounds of grain mixture.

"It is quite impossible for the County Agent to determine the probable amount of interest in such a project in any community. The community alone knows whether such a demonstration would be valuable, and whether or not it should be started."

PREVENT DISEASE OUTBREAKS EARLY

When an animal dies from any disease the carcass should not be hauled to some secluded spot to decay, but should either be burned or buried under at least six feet of earth. The safest plan is to completely destroy the carcass by burning in an outdoor fireplace, built so that heavier animals can easily be hauled onto the grate and a fire put underneath.

An outbreak of cholera in Minnesota a few years ago was traced to one farmer who had lost a few hogs and hauled the carcasses into a secluded wooded spot near a stream. Every herd of hogs that had access to that stream became infected. The loss was enormous.

One cause of cholera outbreaks is the practice of some feeders near a large town or city collecting slop from hotels and restaurants and feeding it to hogs. This is a cheap feed, but in almost every instance in which the garbage is not treated to destroy germs, it is a costly system, as it results in the appearance of cholera.

NON-BREEDING NEED NOT BE DISPOSED OF

Thousands of cows are sold annually from dairy herds because they appear to be non-breeders. Often the best cows in the herd are sold for this reason, and this results in a direct loss to dairymen of many thousands of dollars annually.

Many cows sold as non-breeders appear so as a result of abortion. Statistics prove that from sixty to seventy per cent. of the cattle that fail to breed can be made breeders by proper treatment.

Retained yellow bodies on ovaries and cysted ovaries are often the cause of apparent sterility. These can be removed in many cases by the palpitation of the ovaries by competent veterinarians. Other disease conditions of the genital organs will often cause a cow to fail to breed. Frequently this condition can be handled successfully by proper measures.

Don't send a good cow to the butcher without giving her a chance. The country is overstocked on corned beef now, but is short on profitable cows. Better spend a few dollars than lose a hundred or more.

FORAGE CUTS COST OF HOGS

Two forage or hog pasture demonstrations show that the average farmer who feeds hogs in a dry lot, which still includes a majority in this county, has a cost of at least $2.50 per hundred pounds more than those on pasture. More hogs are being put on forage each year because of the demonstration of these facts.

FEED SKIM MILK TO HOGS

How many pigs can one expect to raise on the skimmilk from the dairy herd? If the cow is an average producer or better, one pig to each cow is not a bad standard. Under ordinary conditions three hundred to three hundred and fifty pounds of skimmilk or buttermilk will replace one hundred pounds of grain in the ration. It should not, however, be fed alone, because of its watery bulk, but at the rate of three or four pounds of milk to one of grain.

A good many hogmen decrease the feed between the time of weaning and breeding. The practice is wrong. A stimulating feed and a little fresh green feed should be provided just before and during the breeding season. Also it is desirable that the sow have access to a supply of mineral feed. After breeding, get the sows in good condition, and let them have all the exercise they want.

Joys of Mountaineering.

Mountaineering for its own sake is comparatively recent. Mont Blanc, 15,781 feet high, was first ascended in 1786 and at that time writers had only expressions of horror for the attempt.

REPORT OF ENFORCEMENT ACTIVITIES FROM STATE DIRECTOR DAVIS' BUREAU

WANTS LAST BOOTLEGGER TO SURRENDER

Philadelphia, Pa., Nov. 8.—"This is no time to boast and I admit I am far from satisfied with enforcement work in this State, but I cannot help but feel gratified and thankful for the progress we have been able to make during the past several months and also for the prospects of continued improvement," said State Director Davis, today, when discussing the subject of law observance with a man of prominence from up state. "Each month, we are endeavoring to make a little better showing than we were able to do the month before," the Director continued, "and we are succeeding in reaching this goal. We are able to do this by strengthening our organization and by obtaining more accurate and complete knowledge of the movements and system of the law violators. We are taking advantage of every opportunity to improve the personnel of the field force, and I feel much has been accomplished along this line. When we find that an incompetent or unfit person has in some way become attached to our organization, as is almost certain to happen no matter how careful we try to be, we take advantage of the first chance to replace all such with those who are competent, faithful, earnest and really interested in making their work count toward the purposes of this department. As a result we are building a substantial dependable and intelligent force, which is proving a bulwark of offensive and defensive, in the remarkable task we have to cope with. We find encouragement in the many evidences we have that the bootleggers, and those responsible for them, are realizing more and more the courage and determination of our men and that they are in constant danger of exposure, arrest, prosecution and punishment. They are recognizing the fact that they are hunted criminals and that in all human probability they must sooner or later stand before the bar of justice. As the demand for strict enforcement of the Eighteenth Amendment grows stronger with the moulders of public opinion and co-operation and unstinted assistance and support becomes more general from the administrative officers of cities, counties and state, the more rapid will be our progress and the more certain our much desired achievements. As for this office we propose to go right ahead in spite of every obstacle and handicap and do our very best to compel respect for the laws and Constitution of our Government, and we will not be satisfied until the last bootlegger has unconditionally surrendered."

JUDGE REILLY RESPECTS THE LAW

Philadelphia, Pa., Nov. 8.—Judge J. B. Reilly, of the Warren, N. J., courts, just across from Easton, Pa., fined a bunch of liquor law violators $10,000 yesterday and told them if they ever appeared before him again they would be certain to draw jail sentences. His fines ranged from $200 to $500 and the law defiers were from Phillipsburg, Belvidere, Columbia, Alpha and Johnsonburg, N. J.

Judge Reilly was stern in his remarks and at the opening of Court said that prohibition laws have been in effect since early in January 1920, and that since that time no person had a right to sell liquor and no court, council or municipal authority had a right to grant to anyone this privilege.

"Since that time there has been loose talk," the Court said, regarding the law, but he impressed upon all within hearing that as long as he is the county judge he will see that the law is enforced to the best of his ability.

CHILD DIES OF ALCOHOLIC POISONING

Philadelphia, Pa., Nov. 8.—Dispatches today tell of the death of Sarah Ruane, seven years old, in the Newark, N. J., City hospital. Her parents told the police she probably had been sampling some of the home made moonshine they had been making. The child died of alcoholic poisoning. Detectives seize a still and two bottles of the poison liquor at the home.

LIQUOR IN ICE CREAM AND MILK CANS

Philadelphia, Pa., Nov. 8.—Officers last night seized a thirty quart milk can and a ten quart ice cream condenser, which were being used as stills for manufacturing moonshine. They were taken from a grocery store near Master and Randolph streets, this city. Chemists insist liquor made in such containers is bound to be more or less poisonous.

ACTING DIVISIONAL CHIEF FOR PENNSYLVANIA

Philadelphia, Pa., Nov. 8.—General Prohibition Agent Saul Grill has been named by Federal Prohibition Commissioner R. A. Haynes, as Acting Chief of General Prohibition Agents for the Third Division, constituted of the State of Pennsylvania. This is the position held for the past year by Divisional Chief John Exnicious, who came here from California.

DEATH AT KYLERTOWN OF JOS. EISENHAUER

Joseph Eisenhauer a well known and highly esteemed resident of Kylertown, passed away at his home in that place on Monday morning, November 6th, 1922, at 3:20 o'clock, the result of hardening of the arteries, with which he had been ailing for some time.

Mr. Eisenhauer arose at an early hour, dressed himself and started down stairs. One of the members of the family followed him almost immediately, and finding his condition serious, called the rest of the house hold, all of whom remained with him until the end came. He remained conscious until the last.

The deceased was bron at Carlisle, Pa., on May 10, 1839, making his age 83 years, 5 months and 5 days. He was married at Bellefonte on January 13th, 1833, to Miss Kathryn Elizabeth Viehdorfer, who preceded him to the spirit world. To this union ten children were born with the following surviving: Mrs Mary E. Steinkerchner, of Rochester N. Y., John B. and Emma, wife of F. E. Hartle, of Grass Flat; W. M of Clearfield; Charles, of Kylertown Frederick, of Munson; Anna, wife of JJ F. Hartle, of Kylertown; Kathryn wife of S. R. Rader, of Munson and Misses Margaret and Ella at home Many other relatives also survive.

Mr. Eisenhauer followed lumbering in his early manhood in Centre and Clearfield counties, later on taking in Cooper township. More recently he moved to Kylertown, where he lived up to the time of his death being engaged in the grocery business.

He was a member of the St. Severinus' Catholic church. Drifting, and a gentleman of many sterling qualities.

Funeral services were held on Thursday morning at 9:30. Rev. Father E. J. Fisher officiating.

PUT CREAM IN NOSE AND STOP CATARRH

Tells How To Open Clogged Nostrils and End Head-Colds.

You feel fine in a few moments. Your cold in head or catarrh will be gone. Your clogged nostrils will open. The air passages of your head wil cear and you can beatrhe freely. No more dullness, headache; no hawking, snuffling, mucous discharges or dryness; no struggling for breath at night.

Tell your druggist you want a small bottle of Ely's Cream Balm. Apply a ifttle o this fragrant, antiseptic cream in your nostrils, let it penetrate through every air passage of he head; soothe and heal the swollen, nflamed mucous membrane, and relief comes instantly.

It is just what every cold and catrrh sufferer needs. Don't stay tuffed-up and miserable.

HER SKULL FRACTURED

Alletta Phenix, of Winburne, 18 years, is in the Cottage hospital with a fractured skull and an injured leg, received Tuesday night in Philipsburg, under circumstances that the the authorities are investigating. The girl was still unconscious this morning.

Earnestness Welcome.

One gets very tired of chatter sometimes. And when someone comes who is thoughtful, who is earnest, who talks that he may reveal something worth while, because he has some treasure through which the world may profit, then what a difference. How the mind throws off its stuleness and freshens under the wind that cuts, maybe, as it heals. How the soul refreshes itself, how the heart takes courage and the spirit rises to meet the message.—Exchange.

Omar Khayyam.

Omar Khayyam was a Persian poet, astronomer and mathematician, born at Nishapur, in Khorasan. His scientific works, which were of high value in their day, have been eclipsed by his "Rubaiyat," a collection of about 500 epigrams in praise of wine, love and pleasure, and at the same time depressingly pessimistic. He died in Nishapur in 1123.

IS RECOVERING NICELY

William Bentz, local N. Y. C. railroad brakeman, who was caught between the bumper of a car and the cylinder head of a yard engine and seriously hurt on Monday last, is getting along very nicely at the Clearfield Hospital and promises to fully recover.

Written Before Christ.

All the books of the Old Testament were written long before the birth of Christ, some of them as much as 1,400 years before, others from 500 to 1,000 years before, and none less than 300 to 400 years before. The Gospels and other books of the New Testament were written from 33 to 60 or 70 years after the birth of Christ.

Amethysts.

The best amethysts are brought from Cambay, in India, and from Siberia, Ceylon and Persia. The chief supply of the blue turquoise is drawn from the peninsula of Sinai, the great mining district of the ancient Egyptians.

Athens of the Alps.

Zurich was formerly called the Athens of Switzerland from the number of Protestant refugees who resorted thither and inundated Europe with their works on controversial divinity.

CELEBRATAE 80TH BIRTHDAY

Ex-Sheriff James Mahaffey celebrated his 80th birthday at his home on Woodland Road on Tuesday last. The "old fellow" breezed under the wire for the "four-score mark" looking and feeling like a three year old and enters the "home stretch" with hopes of his friends for his reaching the 90 class ahead of "the flag."

Great interest attaches to the new model Chevrolet here illustrated because of the quality features added to the line.

These include stream line design, with high hood, crowned, panelled fenders and drum type headlamps. All models now have vacuum feed with gas tank in rear.

Windshield wiper and dash light have been added to the closed models. The outside finish of the closed cars is now all in black. They are built by the Fisher Body Corporation.

An interesting addition to the line is the Sedanette, with which Chevrolet secures entry into the sport and style field. It resembles the sedan but is shorter in the body, has two doors, and hinged front seats. An auto trunk is standard equipment on this model, which is priced at $850.00 f. o. b. Flint, Michigan.

Prices of the other models are the same as in the preceding line.

Come in and examine this new Superior line.

U. M. W. OF A. QUICK TO PROVIDE RELIEF TO FAMILIES OF VICTIMS

Contributions of $5,000 Each Made By International and District No. 2 For Present Use.

FUNERALS TODAY

Measures for the relief of the families of the miners killed in the great explosion at Spangler are being taken in all sections of the country, and it is probable that before the week ended this relief will be established along adequate lines. At the effset of the disaster the Red Cross and Salvation Army sent in representatives and these agencies acted as "emergency relief," but with the passing of first shock, the measures taken are along adequate lines.

Over in Johnstown one of the newspapers of that city, the Leader, had started a relief fund with a check for $1,000. It is expected that this fund will amount to considerable.

President John Brophy, of District No. 2, United Mine Workers, has received the following telegram from International Secretary-Treasurer William Greene:

Coshocton, O., Nov. 7, 1922

JoJhn Brophy, Office U. M. W. of A Clearfield, Pa.

"The horrible explosion at Spangler, with its attendant loss of human life, attracts the attention of the public to the hazards of coal mining It is a terrible accident and an awful loss of life. The sympathy of our entire membership goes out to surviving relatives and friends. I am sending you $5,000 to be used in extending aid as it may be urgently needed.

WILLIAM GREENE, Sec-Treas

In reply to the above telegram President Brophy sent the following

Clearfield, Pa., Nov. 8, 1922

William Greene, Sec-Treas.

U M W of A.

Indianapolis, Ind.

"Your wire of the 7th extending sympathy to relatives of the Spangler explosion and notifying me of the appropriation by the International of $5,000 for their relief received. District No. 2. has appropriated a like amount to be used for relief of the families of the afflicted May the Union Mine Workers continue their efforts to secure every possible safe-guard to the mining industry so that disasters such as the one occuring in Spangler, with its terrible loss of life, may be entirely eliminated or at least reduced to the lowest possible minimum.

"JOHN BROPHY"

The action of the International and of District No. 2, each appropriating $5,000 or urgent relief, will give a total of $10,000 for immediate use, and those who have been on the scene state that undoubtedly this sum will be necessary, as conditions are very bad.

Most of the funerals were held today, and the officers of the district are in Spangler to attend them.

Beginning of English Literature.

Mexico's Resources.

With its remarkable variation of climatic zones and great wealth and variety of vegetation, it might have been supposed that agriculture, not mining, would have been the great mainstay of Mexico. But the fame of silver has overshadowed that of wine and corn and oil.

Wanted Her Change.

Kathleen, four years old, during the walk to morning services on Sunday was handed a coin and instructed to drop it in the collection plate when it was passed. When the time came for Kathleen to do her part she climbed to a standing position on the seat and whispered into her mother's ear: "How much do I get back?"

The Formula for Eggs

Conkey's Buttermilk Laying Mash for eggs and Conkey's Scratch Grains for body maintenance and exercise—that is the Conkey way of feeding. Hens prefer scratch grains to mash if given a choice, but it is the mash and not the grains that makes the eggs. Arrange to feed so the hens will consume twice as much mash as grain by measure.

Conkey's
The Original
Buttermilk Laying Mash

Balanced egg-making ration just right in animal protein (needed for eggs) and low in fibre (indigestible waste matter). No mill sweepings, shell, alfalfa, ground hay or trashy filler. All nutritious feed—clean and sweet.

Conkey's contains wholesome meat scraps, granulated bone, grains ground to proper fineness, and fresh concentrated buttermilk. We use Semi-Solid Buttermilk only. Mixed with exacting care and scientific accuracy, it gets remarkable results in a perfectly natural way, without ruinous artificial stimulation. It is Nature's balanced egg-maker.

NEWS OF OUR NEIGHBORS

CURWENSVILLE

Saturday the Bellefonte football team comes to Curwensville to try their skill at defeating the home team. So far this season the Curwensville fellows have won four and lost four games. Great interest is manifest among the ball fans over the coming game with Clearfield on Thanksgiving Day on the Clearfield field.

Mrs. Verne Bloom has returned home after a month's visit in Pittsburg and Ohio.

By the withdrawal of Josep P. Fulton from the board of council the district which he represented loses an able advocate in their interests. He was an able thinker and was favorable to any and all improvements that would prove of value to the town and taxpayers. It is to be hoped that he will be returned to that body from the First Ward at next election.

Mrs. Edward Benson, who has been a sufferer from tonsilitis for some days, is convalescing.

Mrs. Harry Bilger is confined to her Pine street home by illness, which will keep her indoors for some days.

The Hastings plumbing and heating establishment is putting in a hot water heating system at the home of Reuben Bonsall on Lumber City road. A contract has been signed to also heat the Wrigglesworth house and store at Grampian.

Now since the voters have made a decree against the erection of a new high school building, how much money are they willing to spend to provide room and convenience for the pupils who are attending the three buildings in present use? Many voters now allege that they misunderstood the situation and express themselves as being sorry for their action in voting against the proposition.

Tuesday's election is over so far as the voting part of it is concerned, although theorizing on the result is still being talked over and discussed by many of the "I told you so's." There was not much interest taken by the voters, individually as the small percentage of votes cast will show. In the First Ward the registration is near the 650 mark, yet on election day the poll was only 251. It may be stated, however, that more interest was manifested by the female voters than the male, and it is a safe estimate to assume that half the number of ballots cast in both wards were cast by females, and it is most creditable to state that the ladies voted in less time and with credit to their several political convictions. The $5,000 school bond issue was defeated by 47 votes, winning only in First Ward by 29 and losing in Second Ward by 77. There was no opposing contest in this particular line of voting. The school children displayed a great enthusiasm in their efforts to win adherents and votes for the proposed new high school building, and electioneered for their cause like old timers. It was no fault of theirs that the issue was "swamped" but the blame can be laid at the door of those who talked favorably for it and then failed to cast their votes.

The Parent-Teachers meeting held in the high school building Tuesday evening was a very successful and entertaining affair. The program was well executed and the little ones conducted their part in a manner which pleased the older ones greatly. Mr. Kirk's address was an interesting topic and delivered in manner worthy of creditable comment. Owing to receiving election results there was not the attendance of males that should have been there.

Apologized to Prisoner.

A peer in England cannot be arrested for a civil debt. A curious case is on record where a bailiff was forced by the court to ask a peer's pardon for having arrested him. He had mistaken the peer for a commoner, he said.

Our First Battleship.

The first American battleship was the old Texas, of Spanish-American war fame. She was authorized by congress in 1886 and was completed six years later. The original battleship was a little over 300 feet long and had a displacement of 6,315 tons. The present day Texas is 551 feet long and has a tonnage of 27,000 tons. The old Texas ended her days as a target in navy practice above five years ago.

Cloud of Witnesses.

"But how am I to know that you really love me?" sighed the village maiden. "Just ask anybody in Junkville," logically answered the traveling man who had visited her two Sundays in succession.—Judge.

Inevitable.

A newspaper advises the young man to escape from labor troubles and other complexities of civilization by taking refuge on a tropic isle. But when he got there he would probably find the coconuts cornered on the consolidated coconut exchange, and the amalgamated union of banana pickers engineering an island-wide strike.—Boston Transcript

A Church Census.

Two hundred and twenty thousand American churches served as auditoriums for 170,000 clergymen during 1921. The congregations are estimated to have totaled 40,000,000.

PINCHOT'S MAJORITY MAY REACH 300,000

Forester's Victory Over McSparran Continues to Grow Larger as Rural Returns Slowly Filter Into Capital

Grand Total Now Well Over Quarter of Million and Seems Destined To Reach Three Hundred Thousand; Both Senators Leading Governor

COL. KERR HOLDS PEPPER BELOW REED

Philadelphia, Nov. 9.—After being elected to the governorship of Pennsylvania by over a quarter of a million majority, Gifford Pinchot left here this morning for his home in Milford to begin the study of the problems he will have to face when he succeeds William C. Sproul as governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

With 461 of the State's 3021 election precincts yet to be heard from the count now stands: Pinchot 795,069 and McSparran 539,577 giving the former a plurality of 255,492.

Philadelphia, Nov. 8.—Gifford Pinchot has been elected Governor of Pennsylvania by a plurality of more than 250,000 over his Democratic opponent, John A. McSparran. A Legislature that is overwhelmingly Republican has been chosen, and a majority of the members are pledged to help him write into law the promises he made to the people of the state.

United States Senator David A Reed has been elected for a full term in the upper national body by a plurality of 360,000, while his colleague United States Senator George Wharton Pepper has been returned for the unexpired term of the late Senator Boies Penrose by a lead of 331,000 David J. Davis for lieutenant governor, James F. Woodward for secretary of internal affairs and Robert S Gawthrop for judge of the superior court have been elected by large majorities.

Vote for Governor

With all but 416 of the 8,021 districts reporting on the governorship, the result is as follows:

Gifford Pinchot (Rep.).....795,069
John A. McSparran (Dem).539,577

Pinchot's plurality .....255,492

Reed's Plurality

7,267 out of 8,021 districts show:
David A. Reed (Rep).....724,276
Samuel E. Shull (Dem)..383,287

Reed's Plurality ..... 359,039

Pepper's Plurality

7,304 out of 8,021 districts show:
George Wharton Pepper (Rep.) .....753,577
Fred E. Kerr (Dem).....422,356

Pepper's Plurality .....331,221

Both the Republican and Democratic candidates for governor polled more votes than their associates on the United States senatorial ticket.

G. O. P. Holds 28 in Congress

The Pennsylvania delegation in the next Congress will stand 28 Republicans and eight Democrats. This will be a gain of seven Democrats. The districts represented by Republicans that will have Democratic members in the next House Northumberland, Dauphin, York and Northampton. The other Democratic city E Campbell of Allegheny, who is the lone representative of his party from Pennsylvania in the present Congress.

In the next session of the Legislature the unofficial returns from Tuesday's election show that there will be 44 Republicans and 6 Democrats in the Senate. This is a gain of seven seats for the majority party In the House with 206 members, the present indications are that the Republicans will have 169. So far 37 Democrats have been elected. This is a gain of 23 over the 1921 session.

Seven Women Chosen

The next House of Representatives will have seven women in its membership. They are Helen Grimes, Allegheny; Gertrude McKinney, Butler; Alice M. Bentley, Crawford; Martha G. Speiser, Rosa DeYoung and Lillie H. Pitts, Philadelphia and Martha G. Thomas, Chester. They are Republicans Until late last night it was believed that Miss Sarah M Gallagher had won in Cambria, but fuller returns indicates that she lost to a Democrat.

WILL INDICT THREE IN JERSEY RECTOR-SINGER MURDER

New Brunswick, N. J, Nov 9.—Wilbur Mott, special prosecutor in charge of the investigation of the murder of the Rev. Edward Hall and Mrs. Eleanor Mills met Charles E. Parker of the Supreme Court and Alfred Biggs, foreman of the Somerset county grand jury in the Somerset court house this morning, to arrange for the presentation of the case before the grand jury tomorrow or Monday morning.

The grand jury will be asked to indict three persons on the charge of murder in the first degree. There will be two men and one woman.

The authorities claim that they know who the murderers are and while the men will be charged with first degree murder, the woman will also be charged on the grounds of being accessory before and after the crime and with aiding the murderers to escape.

---

New Brunswick, N. J., Nov. 9.—Further delay in the arrest of the slayer of the Rev. Edward Hall and Mrs. Eleanor Mills developed today.

After a conference at the Sommerville court house Prosecutor Mott stated that no decision had been made when the grand jury would meet but that it would not be this week, therefore there will be no arrests made this week.

GRAVE CRISIS NEAR IN CONSTANTINOPLE; BRITISHERS KILLED

London, Nov. 9.—Two British soldiers were killed at Constantinople apparently in a clash with the Turks and the situation is very grave according to advices received here today

Mustapha Kemal has sent a note to the Commissioner of the Allied forces that the Allied forces must withdraw from Constantinople and that allied warships must withdraw from their strategic positions in the Straits.

WOODROW WILSON IS OVERJOYED AT DEMOCRATIC SWEEP

Washington, D. C. Nov. 9.—Woodrow Wilson while overjoyed at the sweeping victories made by the Democratic party in the recent elections would not make a statement at present, was indicated in a statement by John Randolph Bolling, former private secretary to Mr Wilson.

"Mr. Wilson prefers to reserve any thing he has to say about the results of the election until some later date when he may make a statement."

Asked what the War-time leader of the Democrats had to say about the results Mr. Bolling said that he could vouchsafe no further answer than the fact that Mr. Wilson was overjoyed.

CHARLEY SCHWAB SEES PROSPERITY RIGHT NEAR AT HAND

New York, Nov. 9.—Prosperity and winter are coming hand in hand, declared Charles M. Schwab in a recent speech given in this city. He continued that an era of prosperity such as has never before been foreseen is "just ahead" and this was his answer to the questions raised by ten leading business men, who propounded the query to Schwab asking him for his opinion on the future.

He went on: "Better money conditions, better personal conditions, better business conditions, more time for business and pleasure and a general settling down to normalcy is the reason for the remark and we will see wonderful times during the coming winter and spring."

Among the businesses which were surveyed were the textile, movies, clothing, shoes, automobiles, furniture and the American Farm Bureau

SHORTAGE OF LABOR ACUTE IN STATE

Harrisburg, Pa., Nv. 9—There is an acute shortage of common labor existing in several sections of Pennsylvania acording to reports from the State Employment Bureau. In the Pittsburgh district the situation is very acute there being a shortage of from 15,000 to 25,000.

In every part of the state with the exception of the Scranton district there is no man idle who wants to work.

The local bureau states that the unemployed in the state is approximately 37,880 and this does not include the number who are on strike which is given out as 92,273.

In the Pittsburgh district there remain 80,000 yet on strike on account of the situation at the coal mines.

CO. FARM BUREAU TO HOLD ANNUAL MEET CLEARFIELD NOV. 14

Dean Watts and Dr. Nixon of State College Will Address Gathering at Court House.

FARMERS ATTEND

The Annual Farm Bureau Meeting will be held in the Arbitration Room. Court House, Clearfield, Pennsylvania, next Tuesday, November 14th, commencing at 10 00 a. m. sharp Morning and afternoon sessions. This meeting is the most important of the entire year, and should be attended by every farmer, as well as others interested in agriculture throughout the whole County

The morning session will start promptly at 10.00 a. m. and consists of the different reports, such as the financial report, County Agent's report, followed by the election of Officers. This part of the program is full as important as the afternoon session, as it will show how much work has been accomplished in the different communities, as well as the financial condition of the Farm Bureau.

The afternoon session will commence at 1:30. We are fortunate in having Dean R. L. Watts, former County boy, and Doctor E. L. Nixon the potato wizard of the State, both from State College, to address the meeting. These addresses will be interesting and both men are bringing a message that everyone should hear.

The Farm Bureau has accomplished a great many things during the last year, and has as many more problems and important community and County wide projects to work out for the coming year. Some of the communities may think that the work was slighted in their particular community. Perhaps there is a reason for this. Perhaps the interest in Farm Bureau work was not great in that community. The Farm Bureau is a Public Organization of the County, financed by the County, and the County Agent is a public servant of the people, paid by the State, and if there is any community

State's Official Investigation Leads to That Belief, According To Inspector.

DETERMINE TODAY

Spangler, Pa., Nov. 8.—Negligence was responsible for the gas explosion in the Reilley coal mine Monday morning acording to a statement tonight by Chief Mine Inspector Seward Button, of Harrisburg.

"We expect to determine tomorrow just who was guilty of negligence," said the inspector.

Inspector Button today talked with several of the 32 men who were in the heading or the cage when the explosion took place.

Button declared survivors told him that mine bosses had previously located all pockets of gas in the workings, but had not officiahy reported them. Officials of the mine said their records showed that the mine had been reported "gas free" before the men went down Monday.

It was indicated by the state inspector that the investigation will center about the methods of testing for gas used by Fire Boss Patrick Flannigan on a few occasions. Flannigan was known to have exploded small accumulations of gas, miners said, without causing injury to the men.

"The fact that Flannigan was badly burned by the explosion seems to indicate that he received the full froce of the explosion' said Button. The only debris after the explosion was a few feet from the corpse of the mine boss.

All of the headines were inspected today and no more bodies were found

NORA MOORE, GIRL TIED ON RAILROAD, IS DECLARED SANE

Deputy Sheriff Hummelsbaugh, who has been observing Nora Moore, the negro woman found bound to the railroad track with her hands and feet tied, at the County Home crossing of the Pennsylvania railroad, since she has been in jail, has petitioned the Clearfield county court for a commission in lunacy. The Deputy Sheriff was of the opinion the woman was insane and the commission was asked to examine her and determine that point.

A meeting was held and the woman examined, but was found to be sane

She will be held for a time and then likely sent back to her home in Asheville, N. C.,

The authorities believe the woman to be more or less of a "bad actor' and want her out of Clearfield county.

In carrying out the idea that her being tied upon the rail road track within a few feet of the roadway was a "plant" for possible dishonest purpose on the part of one or more persons it is only necessary to state that a few days after the woman was placed in jail a telegram was received by Sheriff Lowell for her which requested the woman to come to Harrisburg at once to the bedside of her mother, who it was said was lying at the point of death.

RAILROAD LABORER KILLED

New Kensington, Nov. 9—Vincenzo Lamenpola, aged 68, a laborer of Brighton, was struck and killed by a Pennsylvania train at the Braeburn crossiny near here this morning.

Anglo-Saxon Unity Vital, Says Former U. S. Ambassador

John W. Davis, former United States Ambassador to Great Britain, pleads in the November issue of "Our World" for complete understanding between the great English-speaking nations. We have given back to England many progressive institutions in exchange for the blood and traditions she gave us, he holds, but the important point is to keep the spiritual unity of the two peoples. Mr. Davis believes this one of the most important world problems.

DEMOCRATIC COME-BACK EVERYWHERE JARS HARDING ADMINISTRATION AND ALMOST WIPES OUT LEAD IN CONGRESS

U. S. Senate Stands 52 Republicans To 42 Democrats, With One Farm-Labor and One Doubtful; House Control Held By Narrow Margin.

RADICALS HOLD BALANCE OF POWER

Washington, D. C. Nov. 9.—Virtually complete election returns now being in hand, those that are out not being able to affect the present outlook, shows the tremendous lead the Republicans gained in 1920 has been slashed to such a narrow margin that Republican control of Congress was certain to be jeopardized.

In the Senate the Republicans will not have a plurality of more than ten over the combined strength of the Democrats and Radicals.

As the result of the election the Senate stands 52 Republicans and 42 Democrats, one Farm Labor and one doubtful. Even after the returns are complete there is little liklihood that any change in the foregoing can be wrought.

The doubtful States, Utah and North Dakota should insure a meagre Republican majority in the House.

These figures will assure the control of the House which carries with it the sepakership and the chairmanship of the committees but not enough to force the passage of administration measures in case there should be the slightest break in party lines of the slightest amount of absenteeism.

The latest available authorities gives the standing of the House as Republicans, 220; Democrats, 209; Socialist, 1; Independent 1 with three scattering districts yet to be heard from.

Altho these figures may be revised later the Democrats still insist that the result is in doubt.

According to the present authority the Republican margin will be 9 or 10.

Senator King was not certain of re-election but was said to be leading by a majority of more than 1,700.

The returns were very slow in coming in owing to the bad weather which has prevailed over most of the country and the count from the rural sections is notably behind, and therefore very uncertain whether J. F. O'Connor, Dem., or Lynn Frazier had won in North Dakota for the United States senatorship.

---

Philadelphia, Nov. 9.—Tuesday's elections placed control of legislation by the Sixty-eighth Congress squarely in the lap of the Farm Bloc. The Administration margin in the House will be slender enough to enable the Middle Western agricultural group to hold the balance of power. In the Senate, the Republican insurgent group, kept in check solely by the Administration majority of twenty-four, will be able to swing almost any vote it pleases.

Returns on congressional contests came in slowly last night and the voting was so nearly even in many districts the actual status of the two major parties in the House of Representatives will not be fixed definitely for several days. There was reason to believe, however, the Republican margin would prove to be approximately fifteen.

The present indication is for a new United States Senate composed of 53 Republicans, 42 Democrats and 1 Farm-Laborite. Several Western contests remained in doubt, but in all the Democrats were leading. They were ahead in Utah, Wyoming, New Mexico and Montana, where seats now held by Democrats were in the balance. Former Representative C. Dill, Democrat, was maintaining a lead over Senator Miles Poindexter, Republican, in Washington. Should Dill win out—a recount already being held necessary for official decision—the Senate line-up would be 52 Republicans, 43 Democrats and 1 Farmer-Laborite—a Republican majority of 9.

Both Sides Claim House

Both sides continued last night to claim control of the House. John T. Adams, chairman of the Republican National Committee, was clinging to his assertion, the final figures would show a Republican majority of 25 in the House.

Cordell Hull, chairman of the Democratic National Committee, refused to abandon his claim of a Democratic House, but it was said at the Democratic headquarters, a Republican House by 4 or 5 seats was the most expectation of the party managers. In administration circles at Washington, the leaders were standing by their estimate of a Republican majority of 20.

Lodge Election Assured

New returns disposed of all doubt as to the re-election of Senator Henry Cabot Lodge, majority leader in the Senate. His plurality was placed at 9425 over Colonel William A. Gaston, his Democratic opponent, who ran fully 50,000 votes ahead of the State ticket. There was a possibility of a recount being demanded however, by the Democrats.

Washington, Nov. 9.—The Republicans still cling to their majority in the next Congress by a very slim hold as the slow process of getting in the official returns went forward today.

WILL ABOLISH RAIL LABOR BOARD IS FORECAST BY LABOR

Washington, Nov. 8.—The abolition of the Railroad Labor Board was forecasted by the officials of the labor unions here today, following the upheaval as the result of Tuesday's elections.

Confidence was expressed by a prominent union head that the "teeth" would be taken from the board and they would be rendered powerless. He also predicted that there would be some move made wherein a new way would be established to solve the difficulties that now exist and for the future government of the labor conditions on the common carriers of the nation.

WOULD ATTACH VERDICT AWARD

The Executors of the estate of the late John W. Eberts have asked Clearfield County Court to issue a writ of attachment against Knox Fullerton in order that they may attach $162.50 in the hands of W. S. Holmes belonging to Fullerton, being the amount of the verdict recently recovered by Fullerton from the druggist for damages to his fitting.

Mr. Frederick Boyd McCorkle and Miss Nancy Catherine Learish, both of Clearfield, were married at 2 o'clock Tuesday afternoon by Justice of the Peace L. M. Lewis at his office in Hollidaysburg. After a wedding trip the couple will reside at Clearfield where the bridegroom is a coal miner.

End of School Courtship.

that does not receive the attention or assisance that they feel is their share, it is due to one or two reasons. Either lack of interest in that community, or the unorganized efforts of the community to work with the Farm Bureau.

A great many citizens of the County, fail to appreciate either the work that is being done or could be done in the County through the Farm Bureau, simply because of lack of interest, or knowledge of the benefits to be derived. The work of the Farm Bueau, in every community, depends upon the people in that community, and not altogether upon the Farm Bueau.

Come out to the Farm Bureau Meeting and learn what has been done, and what is contemplated for future. Find out where the taxes you paid to support the Farm Bureau was spent. This amounted to less than eight cents per tax payer per year.

The meeting this year was scheduled earlier than usual, to enable people to get out on better roads. It is hoped that advantage will be taken of this fact, and a large turnout will be present. Let us double last year's attendance of one hundred and twenty-five.

HAD ENJOYABLE TIME

Wednesday Nov. 1, the members of the Busy Bee Sewing Circle of Paradise, journeyed to Surveyor to the home of Mrs. Howard Ogden, a member of this popular club. Arriving there at noon they found a delicious chicken dinner awaiting which was enjoyed to the utmost. After dinner all who were able scoured carpet rags till time for the afternoon train home. All started for home vowing to "come again soon" as Mrs. Ogden proved the ideal hostess.

IF SKIN BREAKS OUT AND ITCHES APPLY SULPHUR

Just the moment you apply Mentho Sulphur to an itching, burning or broken out skin, the itching stops and healing begins, says a noted skin specialist. This sulphur preparation, made into a pleasant cold cream, gives such a quick relief, even to fiery eczema, that nothing has ever been found to take its place.

Because of its germ destroying properties, it quickly subdues the itching, cools the irritation and heals the eczema right up, leaving a clear, smooth skin in place of ugly eruptions, rash, pimples or roughness.

You do not have to wait for improvement. It quickly shows. You can get a little jar of Rowles Mentho-Sulphur at any drug store.

COMMUNITY SERVICE NEWS

The general committee under Community Service to promote the coming dramatic institute will meet Mrs. Hanley, the institute leader, on Tuesday evening, Nov. 14, at 7:30 in the High School. At this meeting Mrs. Hanley will outline the plans for the course and discuss what the whole will mean to the town. Effort is being made to meet some who are known to be interested in this sort of thing and are glad to endorse this Community Service proposition. It would be an excellent thing for those who are sympathetic to this movement to attend this meeting to help boost the thing along and bring it to the attenion of those who can take advantage of it, whether the entire committee will be able to take the work or not. Registration, which is free and will accommodate any number, can be made with Community Service.

The office of Community Service is moving on Saturday to the Locust street building just vacated by the Democratic local organization. It will continue to be served by the H. & C. telephone. All scout meetings will be held there unless special arrangements are otherwise made.

Scout troop number 10 will meet at the High School Friday afternoon at 3:30. It is absolutely necessary that all members be present as the tenderfoo test will be given.

Napoleon's Famous Marshals.

Of the 26 marshals of Napoleon's empire, 18 started as privates. The majority volunteered in the revolutionary armies, though several were privates before the revolution. The most noted marshals from the ranks were: Ney, Massena, Lannes, Murat, Soult, and Bernadotte. The latter was the only permanent king of revolutionary origin.

The last surviving pensioned soldier of the war of 1812 died in 1905 at the age of one hundred and five.

One's Personal Influence.

Every one casts a shadow. There hangs about us a sort of penumbra—a strange, indefinable something—which we call personal influence, which has its effect on every other life on which it falls. It goes with us wherever we go. It is not something we can have when we will, as we lay aside a garment. It is like something that always pours out from our life, like light from a lamp, like heat from a flame, like perfume from a flower.

Presence.

I should be sorely afraid to live my life without God's presence, but to feel he is by my side just now as much as you are, that is the very joy of my heart.—Tennyson.

Had "the Goods" on Minister

An old Scotswoman was told that her minister used notes, but would not believe it. Said one: "Gang into the gallery an' see." She did so and saw the written sermon. After the luckless preacher had concluded his reading on the last page he said: "But I will not enlarge." The old woman called out from her lofty position: "Ye canna, ye canna, for your paper's give out!"

Visits Infrequent.

The greatest locust year is universally considered by men living today to have been in 1868. The next simultaneous appearance of the thirteen and seventeen year locusts is figured to take place in 2087, a consolation to the present generation, indeed. Many superstitions are recorded in connection with the appearance of the locust. One of the most popular is that which holds the figure on its wings, which resembles a W, to forecast war.

AN ORDINANCE

Defining and prohibiting Disorderly Conduct within the limits of the Borough of Grampian, Pennsylvania, and providing penalties for violations thereof.

Be it ordained by the Council of the Borough of Grampian in Council regularly assembled, and it is hereby ordained and enacted by authority of the same:

Section 1. That disorderly conduct within the limits of the Borough of Grampian, Pennsylvania, is hereby defined to be any act, word or conduct, causing or tending to cause a disturbance of the peace and good order of the borough, or causing or tending to cause any danger, discomfort or annoyance to any person therein, and shall include loafing, fighting, drunkenness, vagrancy, begging, reckless and careless driving, gambling or playing games of chance for money or any other valuable thing, indecent exposure, profane swearing, the using of indecent, vulgar or obscene language, the making of loud and unnecessary noises, and street walking; all of which offences are hereby declared to be unlawful and are prohibited within the limits of said borough.

Section 2. Any person or persons who shall commit any of the offences enumerated in section one of this ordinance, within the limits of the Borough of Grampian, Pennsylvania, shall be deemed guilty of disorderly conduct and an offense against the good order, convenience, comfort and safety of the said borough, and upon conviction before the Burgess or a Justice of the Peace shall be sentenced to pay the cost of prosecution and a fine of not less than three dollars nor more than fifty dollars, and on default of the payment thereof shall be committed to the borough lock-up for a period not exceeding five days, or to the county jail for a period not exceeding thirty days.

Section 3. All ordinances or parts of ordinances inconsistent herewith are hereby repealed.

Ordained and enacted this 6th day of November A. D. 1922.

M. H. WOODEL,
President of Council.

Attest:
W. I. WALL,
Secretary of Council.

Examined and approved this sixth day of November A. D. 1922.

When Your Hacksaw Breaks.

If the blade in the hacksaw breaks two or three inches from the frame, it can still be utilized. Hold the blade in the flame of a blow torch, or otherwise heat it, and while still warm drill a hole through it; this can be done with a hand drill. The blade can then be replaced in the adjustable saw frame, and it will be ready for use.

High-Water Mark.

"High-water mark" is the line ordinarily reached by the sea at high tide. The general high-water mark of the sea is taken as the line at the limit of the rise of the medium tides and that of a body of fresh water in which there is no ebb and flow tide is taken at the limit of the soil that is so affected by the water as to be marked with a nature and vegetation distinct from that of the banks.

Possibly How It Leaked.

Why Suffer From Bronchial Asthma?

Simple Home Treatment Makes Breathing Easy

Just because you start the day tired, lifeless, worn-out from loss of rest and the difficult breathing of miserable Asthma—do not think you have to stay this way long.

Be strong and well, breathe clearly and easily again by using this simple treatment known as Oxidaze, the prescription of a Worcester, Mass., physician.

For any form of Asthma where the bronchial tubes are irritated, the breathing short and difficult, its healing, relieving action is really wonderful. Sufferers who can't breathe at night and who gasp for a good, clear breath will appreciate the relief and comfort Oxidaze gives.

Oxidaze is a tablet made from essential oils which, when the patient dissolves in the mouth, almost immediately soothes the irritation, clears out the choked up air passages and enables the sufferer to breathe easily and get a real comfortable night's sleep.

It is sold by Bloom's Drug store and all leading druggists who agree to refund the full purchase price of the first package to any sufferer who does not obtain satisfactory relief. Asthmatic sufferers should give Oxidaze a trial. It is harmless and inexpensive.

DEATH BY GAS IS DENOUNCED

Prof. J. H. Mathews, Former World War Major, Condemns Method Used in Nevada.

Nevada's chamber of death, the gas room which a new law in the state provides is to be used for the execution of condemned criminals, is strongly denounced by Prof. J. H. Mathews, chairman of the department of chemistry, University of Wisconsin, and an expert on poisonous gases. Professor Mathews served as a major in the World war, studying gas warfare at the British front and serving in charge of the gas and flame branch of the trench warfare section of the United States army.

"The purpose of gas in warfare is to produce as much agony and torture as possible, in order that the victim may be at least incapacitated, if not actually killed," Major Mathews is quoted as saying to the American Legion news service. "And it is inconceivable that a state should desire to use gases which produce such effects. The purpose of capital punishment is to remove the victim quietly and effectively, in order that society henceforth may be protected and to serve as a warning to other potential evildoers.

"It is to be hoped that civilization has reached a point where revenge is no longer a motive. Only savages torture their victims before killing them; the use of any of the war gases to remove criminals would be quite in line with the practice of savages."

Professor Mathews said there were gases which might be used for executions, if the use of gas at all could ever be deemed wise. Carbon dioxide, the poisonous constituent of ordinary illuminating gas, he declared would be the logical one to use. He asserted, however, that if the administration of gas for execution of criminals were carried out, it should be entirely in the hands of medically trained men who understand both its use and attendant dangers.

"The horrors of poorly carried out electrocutions are sufficiently vivid in the minds of thinking people to make them abhor any method of execution which may not be both humane and effective," he declared.

CLIMBS FOR LEGION POSTS

George Polly, Lynn, Mass., Ex-Soldier Gives Exhibitions to Help Raise Funds.

Some people are height shy. They grab hold of a chimney on the roof of a story-and-a-half dwelling and look over the side only to seek the skylight and the lower regions. "Human Flies" are afflicted with the opposite complex. They can't stand on the ground and look at the chimney without wanting to go right up the front of the building and see if a chick-a-dee has built a nest there.

Such a human fly is George Polly of Lynn, Mass., ex-soldier in the Australian army, who for the last two years has climbed buildings from coast to coast for the benefit of Legion posts. He has climbed the Woolworth building in New York, the Custom House tower in Boston and the highest buildings in every other city of size.

"Human Fly" Scaling Building.

His hands and his toes are all he uses in scaling. Needless to say he has never fallen.

Legion Post of City Firemen.

A post of the American Legion, composed exclusively of city firemen, has been formed in New Orleans. The fire fighters plan to enter a team in the Legion athletic meet next October.

Makes for Longevity.

Cheerfulness is the best promoter of health, and is as friendly to the mind as to the body.—Addison.

Oxygen Gas Future Predicted.

When the process of making oxygen from air becomes cheaper it is predicted that an enormous demand for the gas will arise. Just as oxygen is now used for welding and other purposes in which great heat is desired, not gradually, but very speedily, so it will be required for smelting and a hundred other purposes.

Rain-Marked Windows.

When rain spots a newly cleaned window the trouble can be remedied by using oil. Rub the window with a soft cloth moistened with a little paraffin. After a while polish off with a cloth or chamois leather.

Shogun.

"Shogun" is a Japanese term for great general, or commander in chief. For several centuries the shogun class exercised the real power in Japan, though nominally subject to the emperor. However, in 1867 a revolution restored the power of the emperor and the title of shogun was abolished the following year.

AMERICANISM WEEK, DEC. 3-9

Government, Legion and National Education Association Co-Operating to Make Program Success.

John J. Tigert.

John J. Tigert, United States commissioner of education, declares a conviction that a great stride toward the goal of Americanism set by the American Legion as one of its greatest programs of service will be made in the week of December 3 to 9, inclusive, which has been proclaimed American Education week. Commissioner Tigert and the National Education association are co-operating with the Americanism commission of the American Legion in making the week a success.

Announcement proclaiming the American Education week followed a conference in Washington between President Harding, Commissioner Tigert and Durland W. Fosdil, assistant national director of the Americanism commission. President Harding announced he would issue an official proclamation, followed by similar ones from governors of the states.

Commissioner Tigert, through the United States bureau of education, will request state and county superintendents of schools to devote the week to the American Legion program, which will start Sunday, December 3. Ministers of all denominations will be asked to preach sermons morning and evening that day on the benefits of education. Mass meetings will be held throughout the United States, at which speakers will be supplied by the American Legion.

Monday will have its special slogan —"Americans All by 1927"—with its drive throughout the country to assist immigrants and aliens to become good Americans, by starting their education in the duties of citizenship. Tuesday is devoted to patriotism, with such [illegible] Wednesday, to the duty of [illegible] Thursday will be a mighty day on Doingism, the strengthening of the ties to eradicate radicalism. Friday will be devoted to "An Equal [illegible]," and Saturday, December 9, will be given [illegible] Saturday will be a day of [illegible] every community.

AUXILIARY MAY ADOPT THIS

Headdress Fronted With Blue or Gold Star May Be Approved by the Women's Organization.

When pretty Thelma Sines of Logansport, Ind., donned the headpiece that she's wearing in the accompanying picture, and naively asked if it wasn't a perfectly wonderful creation for members of the American Legion Auxiliary to wear at conventions, conferences, etc., it hasn't been recorded what the Indiana women's reply was, but it is known that all the American Legion fellows who saw the picture immediately voted aye and urged its unanimous adoption.

Miss Thelma Sines.

Miss Sines' Auxiliary unit, No. 3 of Logansport, submitted the headdress as the official one to be worn, but frankly confessed that the idea was really born at Columbus, Neb., where that city's American Legion Auxiliary unit presented it, and then Columbus replied that it really was the idea of some of the women of Louisiana. At any rate, it seemed to be a popular idea—made more so, perhaps, by the wearer herewith shown. Miss Sines says she likes it, that it's cool and comfortable, and affords a distinctive headdress for the organization.

It will be noted that the headdress is fronted with a star. A gold star can be substituted for the ordained blue by those who lost loved ones in the service.

Details, Please.

Old Man Matthews' daughter was reputed to be the slowest witted and laziest girl in the state. One day her father came in to find her sprawled in a chair with her feet in dangerous proximity to the blazing fireplace.

"Git up, gal," he yelled. "You're practically standin' on a red-hot coal."

"Which foot, paw?" drawled Sal, opening one eye.—American Legion Weekly.

GROVE CITY MAN SUICIDE

Grove City, Pa., Nov. 9.—Melancholy over a protracted illness, Clarence Matthews, aged 21, ended his life by shooting himself. His body was found in his automobile on the Forestville-Harrisville road about 5 miles from here early today.

No Harm in Skipping a Meal.

Almost anyone can fast a fortnight with no bad effects except losing weight and becoming weak. The body has stored up in it a big supply of reserve fuel. When "feeling funk," skip a meal and fall back on your reserve energy. Overeating, insufficient exercise and lack of sleep cause most bad health.—Exchange.

Rabbit Cannery May Solve Problem.

In Argentina a rabbit cannery has been established in the hope of relieving some sections of the country of a pest in a profitable way.

Alaska's Great Bears.

The great brown bear of Alaska is the largest of all bears, and the largest flesh-eating animals in the world. So far as natural history is concerned, these bears have been known only since 1898. They reach a weight of 1,500 pounds, and unless attacked are inoffensive giants. Then they become terrific antagonists. They grow fat on salmon of the Alaskan rivers.

Cow Known as Great Mother.

Long before the birth of the gods the way was being prepared for the apotheosization of the cow. The life giving cowry-amulet, one of primitive man's earliest elixirs of life, eventually became personified as the Great Mother. In course of time the cow's maternal function in supplying milk for human children brought about her identification with the Great Mother. The moon, also, as the controller of womankind, was another of her forms.

GLASS OF SALTS CLEANS KIDNEYS

If your Back hurts or Bladder bothers you, drink lots of water.

When your kidneys hurt and your back feels sore, don't get scared and proceed to load your stomach with a lot of drugs that excite the kidneys and irritate the entire urinary tract. Keep your kidneys clean like you keep your bowels clean, by flushing them with a mild harmless salts which helps to remove the body's urinous waste and stimulate them to their normal activity. The function of the kidneys is to filter the blood. In 24 hours they strain from it 500 grains of acid and waste so we can easily understand the vital importance of keeping the kidneys active.

Drink lots of water—you can't drink too much; also get from your pharmacist about four ounces of Jad Salts; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast each morning for a few days and your kidneys may then act fine. This famous salts is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to clean and stimulate clogged kidneys, also to neutralize the acids in urine so it is no longer a source of irritation, thus often ending bladder weakness.

Jad Salts is inexpensive; cannot injure; makes a delightful effervescent lithia water drink which everyone should take now and then to help keep their kidneys clean and active. Try this; also keep up the water drinking, and no doubt you will wonder what became of your kidney trouble and backache.

Better Battery Service In Cold Weather

Although it is generally understood by motorists that cold weather imposes a severe task on their storage battery, they frequently disregard that fact with the result that it is either weakened or ruined.

Freezing of a battery can be prevented, says Mr. E. R. Williams, proprietor of Williams Auto Sales Co. Ves a battery distributor, if it is not allowed to become discharged to a point which permits this condition This important information can be known at all times by hydrometer readings, taken either by the motorist personally or at a battery station.

Cautious motorists, who do not run their cars regularly, eliminate expense and worry by securing either wet or dry winter battery storage In wet storage the battery is left just the way it is taken out of the car, and is kept at a safe temperature, watered and charged at least once a month and otherwise kept under competent supervision.

Dry storage is far better unless the battery is comparatively new. The battery is entirely disassembled, and all chemical action suspended. When reassembled in the Spring, new separators are used, which makes the cost slightly higher but the added life given to the battery makes it cheaper in the long run.

America's Pipe Lines

At one time or another almost every barrel of oil produced in the United States travels through a pipe line The flow of oil in the fifty thousand miles of pipe line never stops Different grades of oil are separated from one another by "headers" which are merely partitions of water three feet long

The Fatality of Falling.

Topping the list of accidents is injury by falling and falls from step ladders lead all the others. It is generally thought that the automobile is responsible for most accidents but there are many different causes which claim more victims than the auto While 67 persons are killed in auto accidents 68 are harmed to death 68 on railroads, 111 by falls, 56 by drowning, 26 in mines and 34 asphyxiated

Where Rain Never Falls.

There are parts of Egypt in which rain never falls; other places where it falls lightly about once in four years; and there are two great rainless districts of two or three millions of square miles, the one including the north of Africa and the other Mongolia and its neighborhood.

Demand of the Day.

Today there is a greater demand for workers real live ambitious, resolute workers than ever before in the world's history Every office and shop in the land is crying for help, and the woman who is poor, but proud—too proud to roll up her sleeves and know the sweet joy that comes from real, honest toil—is missing one of life's sweetest consolations If she is wise now, while the opportunity is hers she will put that foolish sentiment in the background and seek out the opening that will assure her a living.

How Schooner Got Name.

How did the name "schooner" originate? It was about the year 1713 and at Gloucester the first vessel of the schooner type was launched A tradition persists that enthusiastic at the speed made on her trial trip a boy exclaimed, "See how she schoons!" "A schoonpr let her be" agreed the builder hearing the remark. This is a probable story; the word schoon in ancient New England meant a flat stone to skip along the water.

Studebaker

It is not necessary to buy a high-priced roadster to get maximum comfort. Comfort is a matter of correct design. Comfort is built into the Studebaker Light-Six.

The seat is placed at just the right angle for relaxation and is provided with big, fat cushions, upholstered in genuine leather. The semi-elliptic springs are long, strong and resilient.

There is ample luggage space under the rear deck—plenty of room for everything you may want to carry.

Vibration, which is so destructive to motor cars, is practically eliminated by the perfect balance of the motor. This is largely due to the fact that the crankshaft and connecting rods are machined on all surfaces, an exclusive Studebaker practice for cars at anywhere near the Light-Six price.

Economy of operation is increased by valves inclined at a 20-degree angle and by the internal hot spot.

This handsome roadster is a quality car throughout. It is sold at $975 only because of complete manufacture, in large volume, in one of the most modern and complete motor car plants in the world.

Middlemen's profits are thus eliminated, and the savings are passed on to you.

The Light-Six Roadster well upholds Studebaker's 70-year reputation for dependability and dollar-for-dollar value.

Attractive cowl lights. Thief proof transmission lock. Cowl ventilator. Storm curtains opening with the doors. Large plate-glass windows in rear curtain. Inside and outside door handles. Upholstered in genuine leather. Ample space under the rear deck for luggage.

The Annual Farm Bureau Meeting At Clearfield, November 14

POULTRY MEN AT STATE COLLEGE TO LEARN CULLING

Poultry Specialists Conduct Interesting Demonstrations Which Mean Much.

MUCH INTEREST

During the past summer, the poultry specialists at the Pennsylvania State College Extension Department conducted 543 culling demonstrations on farms and poultry plants in eighty-four counties of the State. Eleven thousand two hundred fifty people attended these meetings and learned the art of successful culling. Under the supervision of the college specialists, these people handled more than 100,000 birds and culled out 20,000 of this number as unprofitable.

Clearfield County's contribution to these figures shows that 2000 birds were examined in eleven demonstrations held under the direction of the extension service and the Farm Bureau. Approximately five hundred unprofitable hens were removed from the flocks examined. It is estimated that the two hundred and seventy-five people attending the demonstrations in Clearfield County, represented more than 18,000 birds.

The most notable thing with these demonstrations is that only a few farmers are feeding for egg production. Unless the hens are fed a mash containing meat scrap, eggs cannot be produced at a profit. A very satisfactory mash can be made by mixing equal parts, by weight, of bran, middlings, ground oats, corn meal and meat scrap.

SURPLUS OF BULL CALVES HERE NOW

There is a surplus of pure bred bull calves in the County at the present time. It is a shame to send these calves to the butcher, for they are out of high producing, tested dams, and are exceptionally nice individuals. There should be a number of farmers in the County who have aged sires heading their herds that could use these animals later, and it would pay big dividends to purchase them now on a flooded market rather than wait until the time they are needed and then pay the price of a more mature animal.

The Farm Bureau has a number of these animals listed for sale. There is also for sale some pure bred Hereford beef cattle at slightly above beef prices. Any one interested should communicate with the County Agent for further particulars.

A number of farmers have inquired for fresh cows during the last week. Either grades or pure breds. The Farm Bureau would appreciate if farmers, who are in the market or have for sale any of the above listed livestock, would communicate with the County Agent at once.

If any farmer has fresh cows for sale, or is in the market for any of the other livestock listed, they should get in touch with the County Agent at once for further particulars.

CORN SILAGE FOR STEERS

Feeding trials at the Pennsylvania State College show that the maximum use of corn silage is the most profitable ration for two-year-old steers. To get cattle to consume a maximum amount of silage they must be fed all they will eat at the beginning of the breeding period.

WHY NOT TAKE A SHORT COURSE

Why not take a short course in agriculture at State College this winter? For those who are unable to spare a longer time for study, the eight-weeks courses beginning January 4 and closing March 3, 1923, will be a golden opportunity.

HAVE YOU THOUGHT OF THIS? TRY IT ON

Every farm has two outlets for the hay, corn and oats that it produces. They may be sold as such or they may be run thru the dairy cow and put on the market as milk, cream and butter. Conditions favor the latter plan. If the farm business is organized to market the forage through the use of cows, the dairymen can afford to plan to grow such crops as are suitable for dairy cattle. Our method of marketing is the result of conditions over which we have no control.

The wise dairymen are concentrating on cutting production costs through the use of more legumes and better sires. The big trouble right now is that the progress in raising and handling crops has not been accompanied by an increase of efficiency of the cows to which those crops are fed. Keep both ends of the farm business in shape. Modern equipment and yields do not jibe with 1850 model cows. Good cows can handle the farm crops profitably. Poor cows never can.

CULLING THE PIG CROP IS IMPORTANT

After every pig crop, there are a bunch of boars and gilts, the majority of which will eventually find their way to the pork barrel, by way of the fattening lot. Many more could be included in the feeder class, since they never will develop into the most desirable breeding individuals. The breeder of pure breds must always bear in mind that "the best is none too good." A good start in the breeding game should be followed by a constant improvement of the herd, thru the selection of outstanding females from the litters and the importation of better sires.

At this time of year, the matter of selection is of first importance. The fall litters have reached the point where at least fifty per cent. of the pigs can be sent to the fattening lots, there to be prepared for the pork barrel. Most of the boar pigs, and a good many of the females, will return the greatest profit in this way. The demand for boars in Pennsylvania is very limited and seldom should the boar pig be kept unless it is one of exceptional excellence. All other boar pigs should be castrated at once.

With the pork stock weeded out, considerable time should be given to the development of the good boar, and the gilts that are kept for the breeding herd. They should have plenty of growing, bone-building feeds and a good-sized lot of exercise. As quickly as one of the selected group develops a serious defect send it to the fattening pen. Do not labor with a bunch of inferior pigs expecting to make breeding individuals out of them. They make better market hogs. Spend the extra effort on a few good ones, rather than on a bunch of mediocre pigs of uncertain promise.

ECONOMICAL GAINS ON HOGS

It has been demonstrated that where hogs are kept in any quantity, a good hog pasture will make as great returns per acre as almost any cash crop on the farm. Besides a cash income, there is the advantage of knowing that hogs on pasture are more thrifty and are bothered less with disease and parasites than when kept under different conditions. In fact, hogs cannot be produced under our conditions without having good pasture. The use of a self-feeder in a hog pasture is very essential, as it means the saving of considerable labor. Hogs on pasture should have some concentrates if they are to make rapid and economical gains.

Some high protein feeds are necessary to properly balance corn and oats in profitable milk production. The cow cannot manufacture from carbohydrates the protein that is found in milk in the form of casein and albumin.

HOW TO FEED THE FATTENING PIN

How often do we see a bunch of small, runty barrows that, at six months of age, weigh less than one hundred pounds each, only half the weight that they should carry at that age? The hogman, who is trying to make a profit on his feeding operations, can well stop to consider the "why" and the "wherefore" of the small, undersized, unprofitable pig, since the pig is usually the determining factor in profitable pork production.

The correct type of fattening pig is a well-bred individual that carries the right conformation for the making of economical gains in weight. This characteristic is inherited from the sire and the dam. The care of the pigs is second only in importance to the selection of the right kind of feeders. The pigs should be given a good start, especially if they are the fall crop.

It is easy to get the pigs off to a good start if a creep is made for them while they are still with the sow. As soon as they learn to eat, keep a supply of good, clean food before them and make sure that it is not allowed to become foul, musty or moldy. Fix a self-feeder inside the creep and get the pigs accustomed to its use before they are weaned.

A good mixture for the self-feeder is made of 400 pounds cornmeal, 300 pounds middlings, and 100 pounds of 60 per cent. tankage. This makes a good feed for the pigs until they weigh about 125 pounds when the corn in the mixture may be increased to 600 pounds. Keep the pigs well supplied with plenty of fresh water. An exercising lot, dry sleeping quarters, and ample protection from weather are other essentials of successful management, but these should not be carried to such extremes that a hot-house product results.

PROPER FEED HELPS MILK AND BUTTER

Feed has a marked effect on the color of milk. Increased yellow color, due to certain kinds of feed such as green grass, alfalfa, carrots and the like, is often mistaken for a higher per cent. of butterfat. As a matter of fact, highly colored milk may not contain any more butterfat than milk with less color.

Milk does not vary in quality according to the kind of feed the cow gets. The cow inherits her milking characteristics. She consumes food to restore nutrients that she has already supplied in her milk. If the feed given the cow does not replace these nutrients in sufficient quantity and in the right proportion, she either supplies them for a short time from reserve material stored up in her body or reduces the milk flow rather than vary the quality of her milk.

WINTER VEGETABLES

It pays to buy vegetables and fruit in quantity, if you have storage facilities. Buy your potatoes, apples, pumpkins, squash and all root crops while they are cheap and before severe winter sets in.

HOW STATE COLLEGE HELPS COMMUNITY IMPROVE POULTRY

Recommends Establishment of Demonstration Farms To Get Best Results.

CO. AGENT FACTOR

In any community where there is a strong interest in poultry raising the extension service at the Pennsylvania State College, co-operating with the County Farm Bureau, is ever willing to lend a hand in the development of the work. One extension project that has been received with more than ordinary enthusiasm among poultrymen in a number of Counties is that of the Poultry Demonstration Farm, on which the best practices are put in operation under the direction of poultry specialists and the County Agent. How these farms are selected, and what system of management is observed, is explained in the following, from Professor P. L. Sanford, of the State College extension force.

"In the first place, it should be understood that the farm selected for demonstration purposes is not necessarily one that is in top-notch condition. More often this is not the case, and it is on the poorer farms that the greatest improvement is noticeable, of course. The community that adopts the project makes its own selection of the farm to be used for the demonstration. With the farm chosen, a two-year program is outlined, in which some or all of the practices suggested by the poultry extension specialists are tried out.

"Three meetings are held at the farm each year, in fall, spring and summer. At these meetings the farmers and the extension poultrymen get together and discuss poultry management from every angle, each meeting, however, being limited to but one phase of the work. During the first year, the feeding of hens, rearing chicks, culling and summer management are taken up; the second year, then, concerns itself with the selection of breeders, poultry housing, and advanced problems of summer management. A round table discussion at the end of each meeting gives those who attend an opportunity to bring their own problems into consideration.

"Upon the owner of the demonstration farm falls a great deal of the responsibility. He must be the local leader in poultry work. He must advertise the meeetings, and see that the work has far-reaching effect. He keeps records of his flock, turns his accounts into the Poultry Extension office, and upon receiving the summarized accounts from the college, he is responsible for their distribution among the poultrymen of the community.

"Since the success of the farm depends in a great measure upon the leader, he should be a broad-minded, energetic individual. The farm itself may be good or poor, but as long as there are one hundred hens in the flock, it offers the necessary features. The poorer the farm, the more progress can be made; the better the farm, the more rapidly the best practices can be made evident to the community.

"It is quite impossible for the County Agent to determine the probable amount of interest in such a project in any community. The community alone knows whether such a demonstration would be valuable, and whether or not it should be started."

REJECT THE SCRUB SIRE AS EXPENSIVE

By using your neighbor's old red bull that happens to be handy you save the trouble of keeping a bull, but have you thought that the bull has as much to do with the value of your calves as the cow? If you would get one good bull and use him on your cows you would do much more good than you could do by buying a whole herd of cows of equal value and breeding them to a scrub bull.

The bull is half the herd. In the second generation, he becomes three-fourths, and so on. After four or five generations you have animals that have over ninety per cent. of the blood of the bulls you have used—not of your original cows.

Let us look at it this way. You save old Brindle's heifer calf because Brindle gives lots of good rich milk. But you continue to use Neighbor Brown's old red bull. Brindle may be as fine a cow as anyone would want but her calf carries half the blood of the old red bull whose breeding is—well, no one knows.

The next generation of cows probably won't be as good as old Brindle, yet we wonder why. So after the fourth or fifth generation how much of old Brindle's blood do we have left? Less than ten per cent.

So, look to the bulls you use. Get one from a cow of known record, one that is better than any in your herd. Stick to one definite breed. Select your animals wisely and see if Brindle's calf won't give more milk than she did and her granddaughter still more.

EIGHT WEEKS COURSE AT STATE

The eight-weeks course in agriculture conducted during the winter by the school of agriculture at State College, will this year begin on Thursday, January 4, and continue until Saturday, March 3, 1923. These winter courses were first offered to the farmers of the state in 1890, thirty-three years ago. Since that time they have become increasingly popular and many who have been unable to take the longer courses in agriculture at State College, have found the winter instruction to be of exceptional benefit to them in the management of their farms. Clearfield County numbers among its farming group quite a number of its former short course students who are now helping to improve the county's agriculture.

FEED TO PREVENT ABORTION

The feeding of a good mineral mixture for a considerable length of time before the cow freshens often prevents abortion. The following mixture will supply needed elements to the bodies of both the mother and the foetus: One pound steam bone or bone meal, one pound limestone, two pounds charcoal and two pounds salt mixed with each one hundred pounds of grain mixture.

PREVENT DISEASE OUTBREAKS EARLY

When an animal dies from any disease the carcass should not be hauled to some secluded spot to decay, but should either be burned or buried under at least six feet of earth. The safest plan is to completely destroy the carcass by burning in an outdoor fireplace, built so that heavier animals can easily be hauled onto the grate and a fire put underneath.

An outbreak of cholera in Minnesota a few years ago was traced to one farmer who had lost a few hogs and hauled the carcasses into a secluded wooded spot near a stream. Every herd of hogs that had access to that stream became infected. The loss was enormous.

One cause of cholera outbreaks is the practice of some feeders near a large town or city collecting slop from hotels and restaurants and feeding it to hogs. This is a cheap feed, but in almost every instance in which the garbage is not treated to destroy germs, it is a costly system, as it results in the appearance of cholera.

NON-BREEDING NEED NOT BE DISPOSED OF

Thousands of cows are sold annually from dairy herds because they appear to be non-breeders. Often the best cows in the herd are sold for this reason, and this results in a direct loss to dairymen of many thousands of dollars annually.

Many cows sold as non-breeders appear so as a result of abortion. Statistics prove that from sixty to seventy per cent. of the cattle that fail to breed can be made breeders by proper treatment.

Retained yellow bodies on ovaries and cysted ovaries are often the cause of apparent sterility. These can be removed in many cases by the palpitation of the ovaries by competent veterinarians. Other disease conditions of the genital organs will often cause a cow to fail to breed. Frequently this condition can be handled successfully by proper measures.

Don't send a good cow to the butcher without giving her a chance. The country is overstocked on corned beef now, but is short on profitable cows. Better spend a few dollars than lose a hundred or more.

FORAGE CUTS COST OF HOGS

Two forage or hog pasture demonstrations show that the average farmer who feeds hogs in a dry lot, which still includes a majority in this county, has a cost of at least $2.50 per hundred pounds more than those on pasture. More hogs are being put on forage each year because of the demonstration of these facts.

FEED SKIM MILK TO HOGS

How many pigs can one expect to raise on the skimmilk from the dairy herd? If the cow is an average producer or better, one pig to each cow is not a bad standard. Under ordinary conditions three hundred to three hundred and fifty pounds of skimmilk or buttermilk will replace one hundred pounds of grain in the ration. It should not, however, be fed alone, because of its watery bulk, but at the rate of three or four pounds of milk to one of grain.

A good many hogmen decrease the feed between the time of weaning and breeding. The practice is wrong. A stimulating feed and a little fresh green feed should be provided just before and during the breeding season. Also it is desirable that the sow have access to a supply of mineral feed. After breeding, get the sows in good condition, and let them have all the exercise they want.

Joys of Mountaineering.

Mountaineering for its own sake is comparatively recent. Mont Blanc, 15,781 feet high, was first ascended in 1786 and at that time writers had only expressions of horror for the attempt.

WATCH OUT FOR COLDS IN FLOC THIS AUTU

This Is Season You Should Guard For Better Profit When Season Ov

IT PAYS BIG

It is at this time of the poultryman keep an eye out for the first colds in his flock. Keep these colds under of his flock to a roup, canker, and may gain a foothold the full value of cull tive measures. P poultry extension the Pennsylvania in advising Clear farmers on the such measures, places emphasis on the preven dampness and drafts, proper ventilation of the house.

Dampness may be roofs that leak, floors th damp, or houses that are tight without ventilation first cause is easily rem The second, that of dampn may be harder to cope wi it is of most importance tilation will probably the most serious problem it is necessary that no dr caused. # REPORT OF ENFORCEMENT ACTIVITIES FROM STATE DIRECTOR DAVIS' BUREAU

WANTS LAST BOOTLEGGER TO SURRENDER

Philadelphia, Pa., Nov. 8.—"This is no time to boast and I admit I am far from satisfied with enforcement work in this State, but I cannot help but feel gratified and thankful for the progress we have been able to make during the past several months and also for the prospects of continued improvement," said State Director Davis, today, when discussing the subject of law observance with a man of prominence from up state. "Each month, we are endeavoring to make a little better showing than we were able to do the month before," the Director continued, "and we are succeeding in reaching this goal. We are able to do this by strengthening our organization and by obtaining more accurate and complete knowledge of the movements and system of the law violators. We are taking advantage of every opportunity to improve the personnel of the field force, and I feel much has been accomplished along this line. When we find that an incompetent or unfit person has in some way become attached to our organization, as is almost certain to happen no matter how careful we try to be, we take advantage of the first chance to replace all such with those who are competent, faithful, earnest and really interested in making their work count toward the purposes of this department. As a result we are building a substantial dependable and intelligent force, which is proving a bulwark of offensive and defensive, in the remarkable task we have to cope with. We find encouragement in the many evidences we have that the bootleggers, and those responsible for them, are realizing more and more the courage and determination of our men and that they are in constant danger of exposure, arrest, prosecution and punishment. They are recognizing the fact that they are hunted criminals and that in all human probability they must sooner or later stand before the bar of justice. As the demand for strict enforcement of the Eighteenth Amendment grows stronger with the moulders of public opinion and co-operation and unstinted assistance and support becomes more general from the administrative officers of cities, counties and state, the more rapid will be our progress and the more certain our much desired achievements. As for this office we propose to go right ahead in spite of every obstacle and handicap and do our very best to compel respect for the laws and Constitution of our Government, and we will not be satisfied until the last bootlegger has unconditionally surrendered."

JUDGE REILLY RESPECTS THE LAW

Philadelphia, Pa., Nov. 8.—Judge J. B. Reilly, of the Warren, N. J., courts, just across from Easton, Pa., fined a bunch of liquor law violators $10,000 yesterday and told them if they ever appeared before him again they would be certain to draw jail sentences. His fines ranged from $200 to $500 and the law defiers were from Phillipsburg, Belvidere, Columbia, Alpha and Johnsonburg, N. J.

Judge Reilly was stern in his remarks and at the opening of Court said that prohibition laws have been in effect since early in January 1920, and that since that time no person had a right to sell liquor and no court, council or municipal authority had a right to grant to anyone this privilege.

"Since that time there has been loose talk," the Court said, regarding the law, but he impressed upon all within hearing that as long as he is the county judge he will see that the law is enforced to the best of his ability.

CHILD DIES OF ALCOHOLIC POISONING

Philadelphia, Pa., Nov. 8.—Dispatches today tell of the death of Sarah Ruane, seven years old, in the Newark, N. J., City hospital. Her parents told the police she probably had been sampling some of the home made moonshine they had been making. The child died of alcoholic poisoning. Detectives seize a still and two bottles of the poison liquor at the home.

LIQUOR IN ICE CREAM AND MILK CANS

Philadelphia, Pa., Nov. 8.—Officers last night seized a thirty quart milk can and a ten quart ice cream condenser, which were being used as stills for manufacturing moonshine. They were taken from a grocery store near Master and Randolph streets, this city. Chemists insist liquor made in such containers is bound to be more or less poisonous.

ACTING DIVISIONAL CHIEF FOR PENNSYLVANIA

Philadelphia, Pa., Nov. 8.—General Prohibition Agent Saul Grill has been named by Federal Prohibition Commissioner R. A. Haynes, as Acting Chief of General Prohibition Agents for the Third Division, constituted of the State of Pennsylvania. This is the position held for the past year by Divisional Chief John Exnicious, who came here from California.

DEATH AT KYLERTOWN OF JOS. EISENHAUER

Joseph Eisenhauer a well known and highly esteemed resident of Kylertown, passed away at his home in that place on Monday morning, November 6th, 1922, at 3:20 o'clock, the result of hardening of the arteries, with which he had been ailing for some time.

Mr. Eisenhauer arose at an early hour, dressed himself and started down stairs. One of the members of the family followed him almost immediately, and finding his condition serious, called the rest of the house hold, all of whom remained with him until the end came. He remained conscious until the last.

The deceased was bron at Carlisle, Pa., on May 10, 1839, making his age 83 years, 5 months and 5 days. He was married at Bellefonte on January 13th, 1833, to Miss Kathryn Elizabeth Viehdorfer, who preceded him to the spirit world. To this union ten children were born with the following surviving: Mrs Mary E. Steinkerchner, of Rochester N. Y., John B. and Emma, wife of F. E. Hartle, of Grass Flat; W. M of Clearfield; Charles, of Kylertown Frederick, of Munson; Anna, wife of JJ F. Hartle, of Kylertown; Kathryn wife of S. R. Rader, of Munson and Misses Margaret and Ella at home Many other relatives also survive.

Mr. Eisenhauer followed lumbering in his early manhood in Centre and Clearfield counties, later on taking in Cooper township. More recently he moved to Kylertown, where he lived up to the time of his death being engaged in the grocery business.

He was a member of the St. Severinus' Catholic church. Drifting, and a gentleman of many sterling qualities.

Funeral services were held on Thursday morning at 9:30. Rev. Father E. J. Fisher officiating.

How the soul refreshes itself, how the heart takes courage and the spirit rises to meet the message.—Exchange.

Omar Khayyam.

Omar Khayyam was a Persian poet, astronomer and mathematician, born at Nishapur, in Khorasan. His scientific works, which were of high value in their day, have been eclipsed by his "Rubaiyat," a collection of about 500 epigrams in praise of wine, love and pleasure, and at the same time depressingly pessimistic. He died in Nishapur in 1123.

Written Before Christ.

All the books of the Old Testament were written long before the birth of Christ, some of them as much as 1,400 years before, others from 500 to 1,000 years before, and none less than 300 to 400 years before. The Gospels and other books of the New Testament were written from 33 to 60 or 70 years after the birth of Christ.

Great interest attaches to the new model Chevrolet here illustrated because of the quality features added to the line.

These include stream line design, with high hood, crowned, panelled fenders and drum type headlamps. All models now have vacuum feed with gas tank in rear.

Windshield wiper and dash light have been added to the closed models. The outside finish of the closed cars is now all in black. They are built by the Fisher Body Corporation.

An interesting addition to the line is the Sedanette, with which Chevrolet secures entry into the sport and style field. It resembles the sedan but is shorter in the body, has two doors, and hinged front seats. An auto trunk is standard equipment on this model, which is priced at $850.00 f. o. b. Flint, Michigan.

Prices of the other models are the same as in the preceding line.

Come in and examine this new Superior line.

U. M. W. OF A. QUICK TO PROVIDE RELIEF TO FAMILIES OF VICTIMS

Contributions of $5,000 Each Made By International and District No. 2 For Present Use.

FUNERALS TODAY

Measures for the relief of the families of the miners killed in the great explosion at Spangler are being taken in all sections of the country, and it is probable that before the week ended this relief will be established along adequate lines. At the effset of the disaster the Red Cross and Salvation Army sent in representatives and these agencies acted as "emergency relief," but with the passing of first shock, the measures taken are along adequate lines.

Over in Johnstown one of the newspapers of that city, the Leader, had started a relief fund with a check for $1,000. It is expected that this fund will amount to considerable.

President John Brophy, of District No. 2, United Mine Workers, has received the following telegram from International Secretary-Treasurer William Greene:

Coshocton, O., Nov. 7, 1922

JoJhn Brophy, Office U. M. W. of A Clearfield, Pa.

"The horrible explosion at Spangler, with its attendant loss of human life, attracts the attention of the public to the hazards of coal mining It is a terrible accident and an awful loss of life. The sympathy of our entire membership goes out to surviving relatives and friends. I am sending you $5,000 to be used in extending aid as it may be urgently needed.

WILLIAM GREENE, Sec-Treas

In reply to the above telegram President Brophy sent the following

Clearfield, Pa., Nov. 8, 1922

William Greene, Sec-Treas.
U M W of A.
Indianapolis, Ind.

"Your wire of the 7th extending sympathy to relatives of the Spangler explosion and notifying me of the appropriation by the International of $5,000 for their relief received. District No. 2. has appropriated a like amount to be used for relief of the families of the afflicted May the Union Mine Workers continue their efforts to secure every possible safe-guard to the mining industry so that disasters such as the one occuring in Spangler, with its terrible loss of life, may be entirely eliminated or at least reduced to the lowest possible minimum.

"JOHN BROPHY"

The action of the International and of District No. 2, each appropriating $5,000 or urgent relief, will give a total of $10,000 for immediate use, and those who have been on the scene state that undoubtedly this sum will be necessary, as conditions are very bad.

Most of the funerals were held today, and the officers of the district are in Spangler to attend them.

Beginning of English Literature.
English literature may be said to have begun with Chaucer, about the middle of the Fourteenth century. There were works written earlier than that, but they are in a language so different from modern English that they cannot be read without a glossary.

Mexico's Resources.
With its remarkable variation of climatic zones and great wealth and variety of vegetation, it might have been supposed that agriculture, not mining, would have been the great mainstay in Mexico. But the fame of silver has overshadowed that of wine and corn and oil.

Wanted Her Change.
Kathleen, four years old, during the walk to morning services on Sunday was handed a coin and instructed to drop it in the collection plate when it was passed. When the time came for Kathleen to do her part she climbed to a standing position on the seat and whispered into her mother's ear: "How much do I get back?"

Object in Old Saying.
To break a mirror was said to bring even years of bad luck. This must have been started by someone who hoped that the fear of bad luck would cause everybody about the house to be careful, and thus avoid the waste that would be due to frequent breaking of mirrors.

The Right Way to Dry Your Children's Shoes

SOPPING Wet!—it's almost as bad for little shoes as for little boys and girls. Good shoes will stand it, however, if you keep them out of ovens and off radiators. Let them dry gradually and oil them frequently.

E-J's laugh at water with proper treatment. Put shoe trees in them and let them dry slowly—or if you have no trees old newspapers stuffed in tight will do as well. Treated this way the wonderful toughness of E-J tanned leather will not be impaired and the shoes will keep their shape and flexibility.

The Formula for Eggs

Conkey's Buttermilk Laying Mash for eggs and Conkey's Scratch Grains for body maintenance and exercise—that is the Conkey way of feeding. Hens prefer scratch grains to mash if given a choice, but it is the mash and not the grains that makes the eggs. Arrange to feed so the hens will consume twice as much mash as grain by measure.

Conkey's
The Original
Buttermilk Laying Mash

Balanced egg-making ration just right in animal protein (needed for eggs) and low in fibre (indigestible waste matter). No mill sweepings, shell, alfalfa, ground hay or trashy filler. All nutritious feed—clean and sweet.

Conkey's contains wholesome meat scraps, granulated bone, grains ground to proper fineness, and fresh concentrated buttermilk. We use Semi-Solid Buttermilk only. Mixed with exacting care and scientific accuracy, it gets remarkable results in a perfectly natural way, without ruinous artificial stimulation. It is Nature's balanced egg-maker.

Insist on Conkey's—in Original Packages

For best results, feed all three Conkey Buttermilk Feeds—one each for Starting, Growing and Laying. Don't break the Chain of Conkey's Original Buttermilk Feeds. Ask for Conkey's and always get in Original Packages. Big Poultry Book Free. Ask for it. (21)

NEWS OF OUR NEIGHBORS

CURWENSVILLE

Saturday the Bellefonte football team comes to Curwensville to try their skill at defeating the home team. So far this season the Curwensville fellows have won four and lost four games. Great interest is manifest among the ball fans over the coming game with Clearfield on Thanksgiving Day on the Clearfield field.

Mrs. Verne Bloom has returned home after a month's visit in Pittsburg and Ohio.

By the withdrawal of Josep P. Fulton from the board of council the district which he represented loses an able advocate in their interests. He was an able thinker and was favorable to any and all improvements that would prove of value to the town and taxpayers. It is to be hoped that he will be returned to that body from the First Ward at next election.

Mrs. Edward Benson, who has been a sufferer from tonsilitis for some days, is convalescing.

Mrs. Harry Bilger is confined to her Pine street home by illness, which will keep her indoors for some days.

The Hastings plumbing and heating establishment is putting in a hot water heating system at the home of Reuben Bonsall on Lumber City road. A contract has been signed to also heat the Wrigglesworth house and store at Grampian.

Now since the voters have made a decree against the erection of a new high school building, how much money are they willing to spend to provide room and convenience for the pupils who are attending the three buildings in present use? Many voters now allege that they misunderstood the situation and express themselves as being sorry for their action in voting against the proposition.

Tuesday's election is over so far as the voting part of it is concerned, although theorizing on the result is still being talked over and discussed by many of the "I told you so's." There was not much interest taken by the voters, individually as the small percentage of votes cast will show. In the First Ward the registration is near the 650 mark, yet on election day the poll was only 251. It may be stated, however, that more interest was manifested by the female voters than the male, and it is a safe estimate to assume that half the number of ballots cast in both wards were cast by females, and it is most creditable to state that the ladies voted in less time and with credit to their several political convictions. The $5,000 school bond issue was defeated by 47 votes, winning only in First Ward by 29 and losing in Second Ward by 77. There was no opposing contest in this particular line of voting. The school children displayed a great enthusiasm in their efforts to win adherents and votes for the proposed new high school building, and electioneered for their cause like old timers. It was no fault of theirs that the issue was "swamped" but the blame can be laid at the door of those who talked favorably for it and then failed to cast their votes.

The Parent-Teachers meeting held in the high school building Tuesday evening was a very successful and entertaining affair. The program was well executed and the little ones conducted their part in a manner which pleased the older ones greatly. Mr. Kirk's address was an interesting topic and delivered in manner worthy of creditable comment. Owing to receiving election results there was not the attendance of males that should have been there.

Pearl Thimbles.

Ladies of high class in China use the daintiest thimbles imaginable, some of them being carved out of enormous pearls, and ornamented with bands of fine gold, on which all manner of quaint and fantastic designs are engraved.

"Robin Goodfellow."

Robin Goodfellow is another name for Puck, the little scamp in "A Midsummer Night's Dream," who squeezed the magic juice on the eyelids of the Athenian lovers and mixed them all up in their affections.

Found.

"Ahm!" hissed the Pullman porter. "I have found the secret of his berth!" And he took a flask from under the passenger's pillow.—Cartoons Magazine.

Social Success.

Someone has said "Social success is the infinite capacity for being bored." That may be a rather crude way to put it, but there is more than a little truth in the statement. Most people like to talk about themselves, and good listeners are scarce.

An eminent author once granted an interview to a journalist who said he had heard the author was interested in stock, and inquired what number of cattle he possessed. "Oh, I have about two thousand head—principally bees," was the reply.

Our First Battleship.

The first American battleship was the old Texas, of Spanish-American war fame. She was authorized by congress in 1886 and was completed six years later. The original battleship was a little over 300 feet long and had a displacement of 6,315 tons. The present day Texas is 551 feet long and has a tonnage of 27,000 tons. The old Texas ended her days as a target in navy practice above five years ago.

Cloud of Witnesses.

"But how am I to know that you really love me?" sighed the village maiden. "Just ask anybody in Junkville," logically answered the traveling man who had visited her two Sundays in succession.—Judge.

Inevitable.

A newspaper advises the young man to escape from labor troubles and other complexities of civilization by taking refuge on a tropic isle. But when he got there he would probably find the coconuts cornered on the consolidated coconut exchange, and the amalgamated union of banana pickers engineering an island-wide strike.—Boston Transcript
